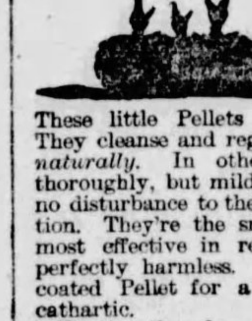
Bismarck's illness serious.



It fills the bill—a dose of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Sick or Bilious Headaches, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels are promptly relieved and permanently cured.

But not in the way the huge, old-fashioned pill tries to do it. These little Pellets have better methods. They cleanse and regulate the whole system naturally. In other words, they do it thoroughly, but mildly and gently. There's no disturbance to the system, diet or occupation. They're the smallest in size, but the most effective in result—purely vegetable, perfectly harmless. Only one little sugar-coated Pellet for a laxative—three for a cathartic.

They're the cheapest pills you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get.

This is true only of Dr. Pierce's standard medicines.

GERMANY'S CRISIS.

Caprivi is Again at Hubertusstock.

More Changes Liable to be Made.

Bismarck's Illness Considered Serious.

The Kaiser Not Interested in His Case.

Much Surprise is Expressed That the German Chancellor Remains in Office After Being Publicly Insulted by the Kaiser.

Berlin, March 23—It has transpired that the sudden illness of Prince Bismarck on Monday last was much more serious than first reported.

It appears that on Monday he was suddenly stricken with alarming symptoms of collapse. He had several fainting fits and for a time it was feared that the results would be serious. Prompt medical attention enabled the prince to rally but he is still very weak and far from convalescent.

It is worthy of note as bearing on the suggestion in some quarters that Bismarck might be called to the helm of affairs again that among the numerous telegrams of inquiry received at Friodrichsruhe, when Bismarck's illness became known, there was none from the kaiser, although there is not the slightest doubt that the kaiser was promptly informed of the ex-chancellor's condition.

In view of Bismarck's illness as indicating the uncertainty that he may survive until another birthday, the preparations for the celebration of his 77th birthday are everywhere being redoubled and April 1 will be memorable in the history of Germany.

At 10 o'clock to-day Chancellor Caprivi started again for Hubertusstock by special command of the kaiser. It is understood that at this meeting the ministerial situation will be fully adjusted.

The kaiser has been engaged, it is said, for the past few days in considering the selection of a new Prussian premier and a new minister of public instruction, and it is possible that other cabinet changes may also take place.

Outside of his intimate attendants the kaiser sees no one at Hubertusstock.

It is just announced that Count Otho Von Eulenburg has accepted the post of president of the Prussian ministry which has been resigned by Chancellor Caprivi as announced in these dispatches on Friday last.

The kaiser has waited until this time before filling the office in hopes that Caprivi might consent to continue, but Caprivi has been inflexible and general wonder has been expressed that in view of what is now known of the kaiser's behavior, Caprivi even consents to remain as chancellor.

He was grossly insulted by the kaiser and but for the excuse of the kaiser's illness he would undoubtedly have persisted in complete retirement from public life.

It is stated that the kaiser has not yet decided upon a minister of public instruction but will make his selection from three names to be submitted to him today.

In regard to Count Von Eulenburg's personal and public history there is nothing to add to yesterday's dispatches. He is the personal selection of the kaiser, a successful courtier and a well educated man of affairs.

He will be the representative of the sovereign and not of any party and the choice is virtually a notice that party government through a ministry representing the majority is not recognized in Prussia.

PIONEER NOTES.

Pioneer, O., March 23.—A building boom will occur this spring.

The high school under Prof. Smith, will graduate a promising class.

Harry B. White is lecturing here this week.

Mrs. Mary Morse has returned from a visit to Butler.

F. L. Masters will soon move to Waldron, Mich.

A MUCH DIVORCED DIVINE.

Three Living Women Have Called Him Husband Within a Year.

Windfall, Ind., March 23.—Rev. J. W. Dollins, resident here, who is also something of a politician as well as an auctioneer of fine live stock, is one of the most widely known men in this county.

He is a preacher, a good politician and a first-class auctioneer, but a mighty poor hand to get along with wives.

Three years ago he married a comely widow. Two years ago he secured a divorce. He married a second wife soon after and in a few weeks, under liberal Hoosier laws, was divorced. Two months later he again married, and a few weeks more saw him in the divorce courts and free. The third marriage and the third divorce followed so quickly that he got in three marriages and three divorces inside of a twelvemonth.

Not at all discouraged, the much-married and much-divorced man resolved to try his first wife again, and about two months ago remarried her. But already the divorce court is in sight, and he has taken the preliminary steps toward again securing his freedom. His frequent matrimonial adventures have become so known that people who have not seen him for a week at a time invariably ask if he has been divorced or married.

CONGRESSMAN MILLS.

Elected United States Senator by an Almost Unanimous Vote.

Austin, Tex., March 23.—Apart from the balloting for United States senator the proceedings of both houses were of no general interest.

The ballot for senator resulted as follows: In the senate for R. Q. Mills, 31; Wash Jones, 1; J. D. Sayres, 1.

In the house for R. Q. Mills, 93, Horace Chilton, 3; R. B. Culbertson, 1; Barnett Gibbs, 2; J. H. Bailey, 4.

There was a good deal of speaking in making and seconding the nomination of Mr Mills.

IS DAN LAMONT DYING?

Serious Condition of a Popular Man.

In Ten Years He Advanced Himself From $15 a Week to $100,000 a Year.

New York, March 23.—The World this morning says that Col. Daniel S. Lamont has been seriously ill at his home in this city for the past two weeks.

He is not yet out of danger, and since last Saturday physicians have been in constant attendance. Dr. Bryant, who is attending Mr. Lamont, said last night that his patient was resting comfortably. The utmost pains have been taken to keep the dangerous illness of Mr. Lamont secret. The general impression is that he is still in the south, and his associates have done everything in their power to strengthen this belief.

Mr. Lamont's career has been an interesting one. He was born in Cortland county, New York, February 9, 1851. His parents came from Scotland. At the age of 12 years he went to work in a newspaper office. He was always popular with newspaper men, for whom, in his late days of phenomenal success, he has shown as great a liking as when he was a journalist himself.

The colonel is either president, director or right-hand man, if not all three, in 17 business enterprises. Since he embarked in business here, only a few years ago, his success has been the talk of the town. Not more than ten years ago he was earning $15 a week on a country newspaper. His income to-day is said to be close on $100,000 a year.

FIENDISH ASSAULT.

A Six-Year Old Child the Victim of a Fiend.

Norwalk, O., March 23.—(Special)—Wallace Soule, a young man of this city, aged 19, committed a fiendish assault Sunday night on a 6-year old daughter of Byron Mead, engineer of the Norwalk Incandescent Light company.

He enticed her into a barn where the assault was made. A young sister made the facts known to the parents and an examination made showed a terrible assault had been made.

Soule was arrested last night and lodged in jail. There is great indignation among the people, and had the public known it sooner their indignation would have resulted in something serious.

EVIDENCE OF A CRIME.

Three Dead Bodies Found in a River.

They Were Prospectors and It is Supposed They Were Murdered by Their Guides.

Brazonia, Tex., March 23.—All the lower coast country is stirred up over the finding of the bodies of three persons horribly mutilated, and each one of them bearing marks of foul play.

The bodies were found in the Bernard river. Two of them were men and one a boy aged about 16. On the body of one was found a letter addressed to S. G. Gray. The party was seen about 10 days ago, accompanied by two Mexicans who acted as guides, prospecting over land. It is thought the prospectors were murdered by their guides.

Men are searching for the suspects and it will go hard with them if found.

SMUGGLED FALSE TEETH.

A Woman Caught by Government Officers.

They Had Successfully Passed the Custom House With Five Thousand Bones.

Chicago, March 23.—Treasury Agents Soehngen and Harlan yesterday visited the house of Dr. Emmey Hellwig, a female physician, at 168 Lincoln avenue, and seized a package containing more than 5,000 false teeth.

The woman admitted having brought the teeth from Germany. They are worth about $900, and the duty would have been $540.

After safely passing the customs officers at New York, Mrs. Hellwig came to Chicago, where she opened a dentist's office.

Chief Treasury Agent Scanlan, however, says he believes teeth smuggling has been going on for some time. Search for more of the contraband goods will be made.

DEFEATED THE RIPPER.

The Columbus Bill Knocked Out.

Republican Members Are Badly Divided.

Swamp Land Bill—Move to Build Up Canal Trade—General Legislative Matters.

Columbus, March 23.—(Special)—While the republican finance committee is cutting off the corners and trying to save money for the state, the politicians at the heads of the different departments and office holders are pushing members of the senate and house to the wall in the creation of new offices.

Some time ago Representative Griffin introduced in the house a bill providing for the appointment of eight additional district inspectors of workshops and factories, there now being four with the chief.

The republican party must provide offices for its henchmen, so the senate, following in the wake of the house, yesterday passed Griffin's bill providing for the eight additional district inspectors of workshops and factories asked for by Mr. McDonald. Their salary will be $1,000 per annum and traveling expenses. This is not to exceed $500 per annum. All their expenses will have to be approved by McDonald, who also holds the position of secretary of the Ohio republican league of state clubs.

It is safe to say that this department will cost the state at least $20,000 a year.

Columbus Ripper Defeated.

If a stranger had walked into the hall of the house of representatives yesterday and glanced at the occupants of the gallery, his eyes would have fell upon the toughest looking gang that ever sat within the walls of the state house, and the loafers were called by word having been given out that the Columbus ripper would be considered. After the decks were cleared, Daugherty, of Fayette, called up the bill, as he was its author, or in other words he was the person that had introduced it for the worst political gang that had ever surrounded our body politic in this city. Before it was read Mr. Fisher, of Preble, raised a point of order on Griffin, of Lucas, and the chair sustained the same, so that the Foraker fellows did not get a chance to force their bill giving the gang complete control of everything, but the plan to elect by districts was placed before the house, and after speeches in favor of its passage by Daugherty, Fisher of Preble, and Holcomb, and Boxwell, Griffin and Bruck in opposition, the bill was placed on its passage and lost, yeas 37, nays 53. Although it has been defeated, it will be reconsidered and passed, as the gang and contractors of this city run the political machine in every sense; in fact, nobody can secure any place or contract here unless he belongs to the ring. The people of this city want the federal plan plain and simple, and it may be possible that the members of the board of trade may yet take a hand in this contest for good government.

Build New Canal Boats.

Senator Fox yesterday afternoon offered for adoption a joint resolution empowering the board of public works to give a rebate in tolls equal to $400 to any person building and operating a boat of not less than 60 tons capacity, on the canals of this state. The following is a full text of the same:

Whereas, Owing to the inadequate number of boats on the canals of the state to do the freighting thereon; and

Whereas, If the number of boats were increased sufficiently to do all the freighting that would be done on said canals in consequence of economy in cost of transportation, the state's revenues derived therefrom would be greatly increased; therefore

Resolved by the general assembly of the state of Ohio, That the board of public works be and they are hereby authorized to grant a rebate in tolls, equal to $400, to any person building and operating a new canal boat not less than 60 tons of capacity, on any canal of the state; provided, however, that such rebates shall be taken from the first tolls earned by any such boat.

Parties building a boat under this resolution must upon or before its completion notify the board of public works of such fact, whereupon said boat will be inspected by the chief engineer of public works, and who, if he finds said boat or boats are entitled to said rebate, will issue a certificate to the owner setting forth such fact. It was referred to the committee on public works.

Appointments.

Gov. McKinley sent the following appointments to the senate for confirmation this morning:

Trustees Blind asylum—L. C. Sedgwick, Belmont; G. W. Hays, Hamilton; J. R. Hankey, Wood; Charles Roose, Ottawa; J. Boechler, Stark.

Member state board of pharmacy—W. R. Ogier, of Franklin.

Trustee Wilberforce university—J. A. Howells, of Ashtabula.

Member of the live stock commission—Dr. Kinsman, of Franklin.

Board of control of the experiment station—J. H. Brigham, of Fulton; A. B. Robinson, Union.

J. S. Wilson, of Guernsey, trustee of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' home.

Mrs. W. D. Bickham, of Dayton, was appointed lady visitor at the Xenia Soldiers' Orphans' home by Gov. McKinley.

Swamp Lands.

The house yesterday afternoon passed Mr. DeWitt's swamp land bill. It provides for the sale by the commissioners of Paulding county of a section of land situated in Carryall township and comprising the bed of what is known as the six mile reservoir. The county has been at heavy expense in draining, road making, etc., by which the value of this land has been greatly enhanced, and Mr. DeWitt's bill provides that two-thirds of the sum received from the sale of the lands shall go to the county while one-third shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the common school fund.

Notes.

The senate yesterday afternoon confirmed Adolph Leise, Hamilton county trustee of Ohio University, and John F. Moreland, Hamilton county trustee of Ohio University.

The legislature yesterday by the passage of Boxwell's bill in the senate, makes it mandatory on the common pleas judges of the state to appoint visiting committees for charitable institutions.

If the bill introduced in the senate yesterday afternoon by Senator Shaw should become a law Goshen township, Auglaize county, will have a new school house, as his bill authorizes the issue of $4,000 in bonds for that purpose.

The senate passed Reiter's house bill to amend section 6162 to provide that in administrators' sales such officer may receive the full amount of the purchase in cash without interest, instead of deferred payments, when it will be a benefit to the estate.

Senator Parker yesterday afternoon secured the passage of an important bill of which he was the author. It repeals a section of the law providing for struck juries. The author had worked up such a sentiment in its favor that there were only three negative votes.

Yesterday afternoon the senate passed house bill by Mr. Holcomb to annul sections 5227 and 5228 by providing that persons intending to appeal a case to the circuit court shall give notice within three days after judgment is entered and perfect the appeal by an undertaking, within thirty days.

Senator Fox offered for adoption yesterday afternoon, a joint resolution which was referred to the committee on public works, to allow any person who will build a canal boat of 60 tons burden, $400 rebate on toll. He hopes to encourage ship building and traffic on the canals by this resolution.

Everybody wants a whack at the election laws, so Clingman of Cincinnati introduced a bill to amend section 1448 by providing that when an election precinct lies in two townships each part shall be regarded as part of the adjacent precinct having the largest population, so that the assessor in the adjacent precinct shall act as assessor for both.

If the bill introduced by Senator Stewart yesterday afternoon should become a law, parties desiring to change their name will be able to do so by filing a petition in the probate court of the county in which they may reside, and if a good reason is shown, the probate judge will have power to change the name and make a record of it in his office.

The republicans of the senate committee on municipal corporations reported back the Foraker water works bill with an amendment that the question be submitted to a vote of the people. The democratic members made a minority report requiring a two-thirds majority of the electors, and that the mayor should name his appointments before the election. The whole subject was postponed until tomorrow at 10:30. Foraker is here lobbying for the bill.

Senator Clingman, of Cincinnati, yesterday stepped to the front and by a bill which he introduced desires to aid the justices of the peace of the state to secure a salary so that their ability to earn a livelihood will be easy, as his bill provides that justices shall receive a salary of $600 per annum, to be paid by the townships, and that a tax be levied for that purpose. This bill does not include the cities that may now be paying their justices salaries.

The senate yesterday afternoon passed the bill introduced sometime ago by Senator McConica providing for the relief of the supreme court, it having failed on its passage heretofore. It provides that the courts shall consist of ten members, five of whom shall be elected next November. The present court, with its additional members shall be divided into two sections, and shall only sit jointly when considering the constitutionality of any law, or when there may be a difference of opinion in either section.

The senate this morning passed Mr. McGraw's bill providing that administrators of estates of imbecile or insane persons may pay valid debts against such estates without such claims being reduced to judgments. The senate defeated Mr. Rawlings' bill regulating the manufacture and sale of baking powder in this state by a vote of 11 yeas to 10 nays.

The house defeated the bill providing for standard time throughout the state.

Mr. Strethlis' bill repealing the Garber law in so far as it relates to sheriffs is under discussion, and will be defeated on passage.

ST. MARY'S GOSSIP.

Notes of Interest for the Oil Men.

The Republicans Nominate a Ticke for the Spring Voters to Pass Upon.

St. Marys, O., March 23.—(Special)—The republicans held their convention last night, and resulted as follows:

Corporation ticket: Mayor, John L. Sullivan; clerk, Walter Greenwood; treasurer, T. E. Hollingsworth; marshal, Frank Russell; councilmen, P. H. Handish, Perry Fisk and M. R. Stockwell; gas trustee, C. Buehler.

Township ticket: Trustee, J. B. Graybill; clerk, George Koehl; assessor, J. W. Fowler; justices of the peace, D. C. Cullen and J. N. Johnson.

Operations in the oil field at this place continue with renewed activity, and some splendid producers are being completed.

Jay Neely and Scott's No. 2 on the Barrington farm is doing 150 barrels daily. No. 3 is in the sand, and expected to come in some time this week.

St. Marys Natural Gas company's well on Koop farm is a gasser with a capacity of about 2,000,000 cubic feet per day.

The Feeder Oil company's No. 2 is in and doing 125 barrels daily. No. 4 is good for 100 barrels. No. 2 is drilling and timbers are on the ground for No. 3.

The Ohio Oil company's No. 4 on the John Armstrong farm is the best well in the field, it having a production of 250 barrels per day.

Neely & Haight's No. 3 is completed and showing for a 75 barrel well.

The Mars Oil company's No. 1 on Laney farm, south of reservoir, is just in and doing about 40 barrels. The same company is drilling No. 1 on the A. J. Ballinger farm and have a rig up for No. 1 on the Frank Long farm.

Harris & Montgomery have completed their No. 3 on the St. Marys reservoir. It is good for 40 barrels.

Chas. Lineman, one of the heaviest oil producers in this field, was fined $50 and costs this morning for polluting the water in reservoir with the oil from his well.

Great excitement exists among oil men over the decision, which they claim is rank and unjust.

Similar charge has been made against the Manhattan Oil company and the trial will be heard this afternoon.

MUST MAKE REPLY.

A Demand Made Upon Salisbury.

Uncle Sam Will Stand No More Foolishness With John of England.

Chicago, March 23.—The Inter-Ocean's Washington special, referring to yesterday's cabinet meeting, at which the Bering Sea negotiations were discussed, says:

"It is ascertained that one result of the cabinet meeting was that another dispatch was sent to Lord Salisbury by this government. One who should know says that this dispatch is peremptory in tone and that it demands a speedy catagorical answer to the inquiry as to whether or not a modus vivendi will be agreed upon."

MANGLED TO DEATH.

Frightful Accident Reported From Findlay.

A Boy, Riding Home From Work, Falls From a Freight Train and is Ground to Pieces.

Findlay, O., March 23.—(Special)—A glassworker by the name of Shultz, aged about 14 years, employed at the Columbia glass works, and living in Putnam street, while riding home this morning at about 7 o'clock from his work, on a L. E. & W. westbound freight, fell off under the wheels and was instantly killed and ground to pieces at the Fair street crossing.

The remains were gathered up and taken to Barnhart's undertaking rooms.

HE PILFERS HIS SERMONS

Serious Charges Made Against Talmage.

He Threshes Old Straw for His Hearers.

The Rev. Philip E. Holp, of South Dakota, Gives the Brooklyn Divine Some Hard Nuts to Crack.

Aberdeen, S. D., March 23.—The Rev. Philip E. Holp, of Watertown, S. D., has created widespread comment by a lecture entitled: "Talmage and His Tricks." After paying a high tribute to Mr. Talmage's genius, he makes the following charges:

"On March 10, 1878, Talmage produced a sermon on 'Shall We Know Each Other There?' in which at the lowest count are 13 different thoughts from 'Harbaugh's Heavenly Recognition,' a book published in 1854. He forgot to give credit.

"I feel sure that in 10 years Talmage has not produced a single new sermon. Permit me to reveal one of his tricks.

"In 1878 he preached on 'The Midnight Horseman;' in 1889 he preached the same sermon, headed 'The Moonlight Ride;' in 1886 he preached on 'Christ and Song;' in 1888 he called this same sermon 'Songs in the Night.' In 1888 he gave the 'Upper and Nether Springs;' in 1889 the same, under 'New Springs of Joy.'"

IT HAUNTS THEM YET.

Scarcity of Finances in the Public Treasury.

It Keeps Secretary Foster Very Busy Answering Inquiries About the Cash on Hand.

Washington, March 23.—Secretary Foster said to-day in discussing the condition of the treasury, that there was nearly always $24,000,000 in disbursing officers' hands, and that was practically current funds, for while the treasurer's balance might show only a net balance of 30,000,000, the subsidiary silver and money in national banks actually took the place of the money in the hands of disbursing officers, leaving at all times $31,000,000 in available funds over and above the $100,000,000 gold reserves.

Counting the $23,000,000 in subsidiary silver and the government money in national banks, the total available assets exclusive of the $100,000,000 gold reserve would be $64,000,000, rather a comfortable sum for a rainy day.

THE ADVANCE GUARD

Of the Toledo Ball Club Headed This Way.

Corbett May be the First to Put in an Appearance—Minneapolis After Ely—Notes.

The Toledo base ball club's affairs are taking shape rapidly and when warm weather arrives work on the stands and grounds will be rushed. Many teams in the country are anxious for practice games with the Black Pirates. Joliet has secured dates for April 2 and 3, Ft. Wayne April 9 and 10 and many others have written for dates, many of which will be filled in.

Manager Bancroft has written to the Toledo club people and offered the home of "Kelley's killers" to practice on. This kindly offer will undoubtedly be accepted, as the park is in good condition and Cincinnati air is warmer than that of Toledo at this time of year.

Notes.

Corbett will be here on Sunday.

Cincinnati will continue to be called "Reds."

Con Murphy is showing up nicely for Anson.

All the Toledo team will be on hand the first of the week.

Armour and Gettinger will arrive Monday from Pittsburg.

Manager McGregor is rustling for the success of the Toledo club.

Washington beat Savannah in the first game played 16 to 2. "Tacks" Curtis is in the Georgia team. He is in business there. On a wild pitch by Gastright two of the Crackers came in in the last inning.

The Minneapolis club would like very much to have Ely play short in that city, but President Gunnells has in him one of the best men in the Western association, and will consider no proposition looking to a change.

The Toledos are likely to practice at the old home of King Kel.'s Killers—the Gymnasium Athletic grounds. Superintendent Murphy has granted them that privilege. The Toledo's play the Reds Thursday and Friday of next week.—Times-Star.

THEY DID THE DEED.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Reduces Coal Rates

To the Lake Front to Meet the Rate From the Ohio Fields—The Probable Outlook.

"Well," said a Bee to Hudson Fitch, of the Ohio Central lines, "what did they do at the Pittsburg meeting?"

"They made rates," was the answer, "to apply from both the Pennsylvania and Ohio fields, the same as were in effect last season from the Ohio coal fields."

"And that was—?"

"To the lake front, 85 cents per ton, plus 20 cents for loading on vessels."

"This is a reduction on the part of the Pennsylvania company. Won't it result disastrously to the Ohio people?"

"It will not," said Mr. Fitch. "The Ohio lines handled 55 per cent. of the coal to the lake last year and it is my opinion that they will do the same this coming year."

Said the superintendent of one of the coal carrying roads this morning: "I am afraid that this matter of allowing the Pennsylvania to bring coal in here at the same rates as from the Ohio fields can have nothing but a disastrous result. It has heretofore been thought necessary for the Ohio lines to have a differential on coal to the lake front and I don't see how their representatives allowed such an arrangement to be made. The rate from the Pittsburg district has been about 10 cents per ton higher than from the Ohio mines and this kept Ohio coal to the front. But now, unless the rate on Ohio coal is cut under the Pennsylvania's rate, Pittsburg coal will have the call."

The matter is one of great importance to Toledo roads and Ohio coal operators and the next move will be watched with interest.

COAST SENSATION.

A Newspaper Man Has Stirred Up California.

Did Terry's Death Result From Conspiracy?

Reported That a Price Was Placed on His Head

And That Nobody Could Be Found to Kill Him.

The Celebrated Case Brought to Public View Once More and Grave Hints and Much More That Is Soon to Be Made Public.

San Francisco, Cal., March 23.—The recent discoveries in the residence if the late Judge Terry at Fresno have brought to the surface many almost forgotten and purposely suppressed incidents of the late judge's life.

The truth about the conspiracy that ended in the death of David S. Terry is gradually being discovered. Fear has prevented many persons from telling all that they know about the matter, and prudential and political reasons have swayed the minds of others to whose ears the murmur of a great conspiracy has come.

But piece by piece facts are rising to the surface crimson with details of one of the most damnable and remarkable murders of the century.

It has been only recently that some tangible evidence came to light regarding the existence of a protracted conspiracy on the part of Judge Terry's legal, personal and political enemies to put him out of their way.

He was a man who could neither be bribed, cajoled nor bullied, and his investigations in the Sharon case were tending in a direction that threatened seriously to compromise many wealthy and otherwise prominent men.

The friends of the dead jurist who went on the trail of the murderers have never slackened in the chase, and certain events and discoveries made during the past few weeks show that the end is near at hand.

Among those who have been assiduously engaged ever since that fateful day at Lathrop in picking up the broken threads of evidence here and there is A. E. Wagstaff, and old California journalist, whose home has been for many years in the San Joaquin Valley.

Wagstaff has just completed a biography of Judge Terry, and the work will be issued in a few days. He spent several weeks in Judge Terry's old home in Texas gathering fresh facts and working up old clues, and the result will appear in his book.

Wagstaff's Story.

Wagstaff arrived in Fresno and was interviewed by a reporter regarding the letter recently found in Judge Terry's house purporting to have been written by an ex-California sheriff in Dubuque, Ia., stating that the writer had been offered $2,500 and immunity from punishment if he would kill Judge Terry. Mr. Wagstaff said:

"Since arriving in Fresno I find that a good many people have been considerably exercised over certain disclosures made in handling the effects of their late eminent fellow citizen, ex-Chief Justice David S. Terry, and particularly concerning a certain letter purporting to have been written by an ex-sheriff who had been offered $25,000 to kill him. There is no doubt that the story is true, as he is not the only one who was approached on that subject.

"In gathering material for the biography, I was startled at the evidence which accumulated, going to prove beyond a doubt that from the day Judge Terry was retained as counsel or protector of the plaintiff in the celebrated Sharon vs. Sharon divorce suit until the bullet from the pistol in the hands of Field's armorbearer at Lathrop closed his distinguished career, his life was in danger and the assassin was on his track.

"It does not appear conclusively who the promoters of the scheme were, but the statement of a Los Angeles attorney, now holding an honorable position on the judicial bench in the state, as well as other incidents which occurred, are conclusive that there was a vast amount of money as well as vindictiveness behind the scheme.

"It is not known just what Nagle received as the successful assassin, but that he was handsomely rewarded there is no doubt. The details of the scheme may not have been known by the authorities at Washington, nor the object involved, but that the person was to be protected at the expense of justice, in view of the notoriety that had attached to the reputation of Judge Terry as a fearless and indomitable man, the letters of the United States attorney-general, the voice of the press and the action of the circuit court in refusing an investigation and setting the prisoner free, fully testify that there was a well-arranged program.

The history of the case as presented in the biography, attested by documentary evidence, will create a sensation, particularly as the author has been thoroughly independent and forcible in presenting both facts and conclusions. Wagstaff, on being pressed to give the name of the Los Angeles lawyer, said that he was Judge W. F. Fitzgerald, now one of the supreme court commissioners of this state.

"Some time after the murder of Judge Terry," continued Wagstaff, "Judge Fitzgerald told me that shortly after Judge Terry had been retained as legal advisor and protector of Sarah Althea Sharon he (Fitzgerald) was offered $50,000 for his services in the case. At that time a conspiracy was on foot to abduct and make away with Sarah Althea, and Judge Terry because of his incorruptibility and his fearless character was selected as her protector.

"Judge Fitzgerald said to the parties who had made the offer: 'Gentlemen, you are mistaken in your man. It is true that in the course of my life I may have killed a man or two, but I had to do it in self-defense. The issue was forced upon me. I know Judge Terry well, and I respect and esteem him for his manly, upright character, and I will therefore take no part in the case.'"

City Attorney Reel G. Terry, a nephew of Judge Terry, was asked by the reporter last evening whether he knew anything of the Fitzgerald episode, and he made the following statement: "Shortly after the death of Judge Terry I was in the Palace hotel with Judge Fitzgerald. There were several other gentlemen in the party, and we were drinking wine and conversing on different topics, when the conversation turned upon the tragedy at Lathrop. Judge Fitzgerald said that he had been offered a good fee to take part in the Sharon case against Sarah Althea, and he had declined it. When asked for his reason for declining, Judge Fitzgerald said that he had a suspicion that he had not been offered a large fee for his legal service alone, and he therefore refused to accept it."

Thus, link by link, the great chain of evidence is being forged. Whose arms it will bind when the truth is at last revealed time alone can tell.

The documents discovered in the house of the late Judge Terry have created a great sensation, although the text has not yet appeared in the newspapers. The pamphlet written by Terry is a crude, poor affair not well written, badly arranged and lacking everything that marks a master of literary style. It looks as if it was just strung together hastily by some one not accustomed to public discussion. It purports to have been printed for the purpose of vindicating the memory of Judge Terry by the production of papers he had prepared to show that Justice Stephen J. Field was not as good a man as he claimed to be, not as brave a man as his autobiography represented him, and not as just a man as one sitting in the seat of justice must be to avoid infamy. It is harmful to Field, of course, because it furnishes data to every man who has reason or wishes to attack him in politics or print. The state in a hazy way had heard of all the things set out in this pamphlet before, but this compendium has crystallized them almost into accepted facts. California people will be apt to believe it as a voice coming from the tomb of a man whom all believed to be honest and sincere, and that belief makes Field's position dangerous and difficult to maintain.

TOM BOWAN'S ROLL.

A Colorado Statesman With Too Much Cash.

He Leaves Forty Thousand Dollars in His Vest in a Bath Room in Chicago.

Chicago, March 23.—An under vest containing $13,000 in cash and papers valued at twice that amount was left in a Turkish bath room at the Palmer house by ex-Senator Thomas M. Bowen, of Denver, last evening. It was found half an hour later in the dressing room the ex-senator had occupied by E. M. Watson, a colored attendant, who at once carried it to Clerk Cunningham. Subsequently Senator Bowen was seen by a reporter and questioned regarding his loss.

"Why, there is not a word of truth in the story," he exclaimed. "I'm not such a fool as to carry that amount of money and valuables around with me. It is absurd and ridiculous, and I don't see—" He did not finish the sentence. As he was talking he had placed his hand underneath his vest. The under vest was gone.

"Hold on," he cried out excitedly. "Who told you that? Ring the bell for a porter quick. Heavens an earth, where is my vest? Come with me down to the office quick. Did you say it was at the office?"

With this the ex-senator went charging downstairs four steps at a time, and in two minutes he rushed up to Clerk Cunningham and in a nervous voice asked:

Is my vest here! Have you my money? did any one leave it here?'

Billy Cunningham looked up with a provoking smile and asked: "What is it you wish?"

This was too much for the Colorado man "Confound you, is my money here? Come now, don't fool with me; where is it?"

"You said awhile ago that you had lost nothing," said the clerk.

"I have lost $13,000 in cash," he shouted. "and papers I would not take twice that amount for."

In the bath rooms they learned that Watson had gone home. He lived on Seventeenth street, and thither a messenger was dispatched in a carriage. Meantime Senator Bowen was in a state of nervous excitement. He had purchased tickets and sleeper accommodations for Denver for himself and wife, and his train was to leave in less than an hour.

Before the attendant came the manager of the bath rooms walked in. He identified the ex-senator as the man who left the vest, and it was given to him. He left a good-sized bill for the attendant who found the vest, and getting into a carriage, was driven with his wife to the Rock Island depot, where he took the train for Denver.

THE RIOTS AT ORECHO.

Causes Leading Up to the Outbreak.

The Burgomaster Was Unpopular and An Attempt Was Made to Burn Him Alive.

Buda Pesth, March 23.—The dispatches have frequently reported the distress prevaling in northern Hungary among the peasants and the situation grows more critical.

The government has taken measures to aid the sufferers, but dispite the help extended by the authorities there are many expressions of discontent. This discontent has more than once resulted in acts of lawlessness. The latest incident of riotous conduct comes from Orecho, in northern Hungary, among a number of peasants who thought they had been badly treated in the distribution of relief.

They determined to take revenge on the burgomaster for their fancied wrongs. They went in a body to the home of the burgomaster, which is on a farm a little distance from the town and noiselessly barricaded the doors and windows so as to prevent any one from getting out of the place. Then the peasants set fire to the place, their avowed intention being to burn the burgomaster and his family to death. They would have succeeded in their nefarious design had it not been for the fact that the fire was seen by a number of farmers who hastened to the scene. They were surprised to see a large body of peasants standing idly about and making no attempt to fight the fire, but they soon gained information of the peasants' intention.

They were thunderstruck at the cold-blooded brutality displayed and at once attempted to rescue the imprisoned burgomaster and members of his family.

The peasants, however, were not disposed to let the farmers do anything and a desperate fight occurred before the latter could overcome the resistance offered to their work of rescue. The fire was gaining in strength every minute, and the farmers fought with desperation, knowing well that if they were defeated those in the burning building would be consumed.

The peasants were finally put to flight. The barricades were then hastily removed and everybody in the house rescued. In the meantime the flames had gained such headway that it was impossible to save the house. The peasants who took part in the affair are known and they will be severely punished.

RAUM IN MORE TROUBLE.

He Has Cast Odium On His Lady Clerks

And Will Be Called to Time at Once.

Disgraceful Proceedings of the Commissioner of Pensions in Order to Shield His Son.

Washington, March 23.—Green B. Raum is liable to have a libel suit on his hands in addition to his other troubles. In the testimony given before the investigating committee he read a letter addressed by him to Secretary Noble as a part of his sworn evidence explaining the reasons why he demanded the removal from office of a man named Engle.

Engle is one of the men who made affidavit that young Green B. Raum was trying to blackmail employes of the pension bureau.

In demanding his removal by the secretary of the interior, Raum gave his reasons in a letter addressed to the secretary, in which, among other things, he declared that he was informed on good authority that Engle had seduced a young girl in the pension bureau, and boasted of it.

In the course of the examination consequent on this Raum said that the girl was still employed in the bureau, but was now behaving herself.

Engle now comes forward and denies absolutely this statement, threatens to sue Raum for libel, and has asked the investigating committee to allow him to be heard at the earliest moment. This will result of course upon Raum giving the name of the woman in the case to the committee, if he dares, and then of course the woman and Engle will have a chance to have their say. Some very interesting developments are expected.

Every day new charges against Raum are being filed with members of the committee and with Mr. Enloe, and in all likelihood by the time Raum gets through with the investigation even Mr. Harrison's faith in him will be apt to be somewhat weakened.

HE SHOT TO KILL.

Shooting Affray in a Huron Saloon.

Barkeeper Osborn Becomes Angry and Fills Two of His Customers Full of Bullets.

Sandusky, O., March 22.—A fatal shooting affair occured in Levi Green's saloon at Huron yesterday. Jerome Osborn, barkeeper of the saloon, became greatly enraged at two frequenters of the place, drew two revolvers of 32 calibre and began shooting. With one he shot William Purvis in the abdomen and with the other perforated Pat Malloy's neck.

The men were removed by the crowd attracted by the shooting and Dr. Merz of this city sent for. The doctor says Purvis cannot live and Malloy's injury is serious. Osborn was promptly arrested, brought to Sandusky and lodged in jail to await the results of his bloody work.

The only cause assigned for the shooting is that Purvis and Malloy were teasing Osborn and got him so enraged that he tried to take the lives of both. Huron is greatly excited over the affair and much indignation is expressed.

Mr. S. G. Derry

Of Providence, R. I.,

Widely known as proprietor of Derry's Waterproof Harness Oil, tells below of his terrible sufferings from Eczema and his cure by

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

"Gentlemen: Fifteen years ago I had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism, which was followed by eczema or salt rheum, breaking out on my right leg. The humor spread all over my legs, back and arms,

A Foul Mass of Sores,

swollen and itching terribly, causing intense pain if the skin was broken by scratching, and discharging constantly. It is impossible to describe my suffering in those years of agony and torture. I spent in futile efforts to get well, and was discouraged and ready to die. At this time I was unable to lie down in bed, had to sit up all the time, and was unable to walk without crutches. I had to hold my arms away from my body, and had to have my arms, back and legs bandaged by my faithful wife twice a day. "Finally a friend who was visiting at our house, urged me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I began by taking half a teaspoonful. My

Thousands of Dollars

Stomach Was All Out of Order

But the medicine soon corrected this, and in six weeks I could see a change in the condition of the humor which nearly covered my body. It was driven to the surface by the Sarsaparilla, the sores soon healed, and the scales fell off. I was soon able to give up bandages and crutches, and a happy man I was. I had been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for seven months; and since that time, nearly two years, I have worn no bandages whatever and my legs and arms are sound and well.

The Delight

of myself and wife at my recovery it is impossible to tell. To all my business friends in Boston and over the country, I recommend

DISCHARGED A WELL MAN.

The Shots Had No Effect on Sam Magold.

Samuel J. Magold, the young Italian who shot himself over the heart a few weeks ago and then coolly rode up town in a street car after his desperate attempt at suicide, was discharged from St. Vincent's hospital to-day, a well man. His wound was one that would have proven instantly fatal to most men.

AN OLD SOLDIER

Says He Was Released From the Soldiers' Home—Unable to Care for Himself.

An old man named Bill Dustan was brought into the police station this morning. He has been in the soldiers' homes at Dayton and Sandusky, but for some reason or other was released from both of them, so he says. He is suffering with St. Vitus' dance and is in bad shape. He came to Toledo and then walked out to his sister-in-law, Mary Dustan's house, in Adams township. She is poor and cannot take care of him.

SHOVING THE QUEER.

And Very Queer Queer It Was—A Clumsy Counterfeiter.

Jack Carew arrested John Reilly yesterday afternoon for safe keeping. Reilly had made several attempts to pass a counterfeit dollar. The counterfeit was about the poorest specimen ever turned out. It was not struck with a die, but roughly cast in a mould made with a genuine dollar. It had lumps on it and wouldn't have fooled a boy. Whoever is making them is new in the business. Reilly gave his home as Bellevue. He will be held at the police station until turned over to the U. S. marshal.

COL. HAYNES

Will Not Be a Candidate for Congress.

To-day's Columbs Journal has the following in its special from Washington:

Congressman Haynes, of the Toldeo district, announced to-day that he would not be a candidate for re-election. The new apportionment of the state places Mr. Haynes in a democratic district, and it is thought that he would not experience much difficulty in securing the nomination, but some time ago he made up his mind to retire from public life and devote his time to private business affairs. Mr. Haynes is serving his second term in congress and has been a very useful member for his district and the state in general.

Their large and commodious residence was beautifully decorated, the evening was spent in social parlor games, and at the proper time a splendid luncheon was served, consisting of all the delicacies of the season.

TANGLED UP.

A Word About Will S. Rising, of the Company.

Will S. Rising, of the "Tangled Up" company, which comes to the Wheeler opera house Friday, will be pleasantly remembered here in connection with the first productions of "The Little Tycoon." He is a clever actor as well as singer, handsome in person, easy and self-possessed in manner. He is always a popular favorite with his audience. He is well known among the college boys of the land and ranks high as athlete. He is an excellent linguist, having lived several years abroad while completing his musical education, and was at one time an attache of the United States legation at Paris. While there he say Lagrave's farce, "Qui est Maitre lei?" and has adapted it and Americanized it under the title of "Tangled Up." He has associated with him Louis De Lange, the well-known comedian, formerly of Aronson's Casino company, and the two have surrounded themselves with a clever party of comedians.

THE HOTEL VICTORY.

What J. K. Tillotson Has on the String.

Yesterday's Sandusky Register has the following information relative to the Hotel Victory project, which will be interesting to Toledoans and others:

Mr J. K. Tillotson, the hustling projector of the mammoth Hotel Victory, is out with a new scheme to boom his enterprise. He announces that the hotel will open for business June 29, 1892, and that a grand inaugural banquet will be given on the evening of June 30. For this ball 10,000 tickets are to be sold at $2 each, and already the 10,000 are on sale. The banquet, Mr. Tillotson announces, will be held from 12 o'clock high noon to 4:30 p. m., and will be the most magnificent affair ever given in this country to a like number of people.

Two thousand people can sit down at one time in the two dining rooms of this mastodon hotel, or rather can when it is completed, which Mr. Tillotson says will be accomplished in June.

It is hoped that his sanguine expectations will be fully realized, for Hotel Victory will give Put-in-Bay such a boom as it has not had since the palmy days of the Put-in-Bay house back in the early '70's.

MR. ARMSTRONG DECLINES

The Nomination for Water Works Trustee on the Democratic Ticket.

Much to the discomfiture of all who have an interest in the proper management of city affairs, Mr. Clarence E. Armstrong feels it positively incumbent on him to decline the nomination for water works trustee, tendered him by acclamation on Monday. The delegates sought to inaugurate a reform in the making of selections for the important offices to be filled this spring, and it is to be regretted that Mr. Armstrong cannot see his way clear to accept. He has forwarded the following letter to the committee, and another name will be placed on the ticket:

Toledo, O., March 22, 1892.

M. C. Sullivan, Chairman Democratic Central Committee, Toledo, O.:

Dear Sir—While I appreciate the high honor conferred upon me by the democratic city convention, by placing me in nomination for water works trustee, and not unmindful of the duty that all good citizens owe to their party and the community in which they live, I feel that higher duties demand my withdrawal from the ticket, and therefore most respectfully request your committee to name some suitable person in my place.

Yours very truly,
CLARENCE E. ARMSTRONG.

PATRONS OF INDUSTRY.

The Delegates Get Down to Business This Forenoon.

Work of the Morning Session—Aims and Objects of the Order—List of Delegates Present.

It was a few minutes after 10 o'clock this morning when the annual convention of the Supreme association of the Patrons of Industry was called to order at the parlors of the Burnett house.

President Lake occupied the chair, and after an informal talk appionted a committee on rules and a committee on credentials.

The committee on credentials reported those present entitled to seats and that representatives from several of the states and territories were absent.

The delegates began arriving last evening, and the majority expected were present at the opening of the first session this morning.

They are, as a rule, fine looking men, big, brawny, brainy farmers, who are here for business pure and simple. As stated yesterday the sessions are secret. The sole reason given for this secrecy, which generally tends to hurt an organization, is that heretofore the order has not been treated fairly by the newspapers.

The following is a list of the delegates present:

W. S. Donnelly, Stillwater, N. Y.; I. F. Crissman, St. John, Mich.; C. H. Carlyle, Rockford, Mich.; Alex C. Kay, M. D., East Tawas, Mich.; E. A. Metzger, South Bend, Ind.; DuBois Conklin, Grand Rapids; J. P. Berg, Traverse City, Mich.; J. J. England, Caro; F. D. Dunakin, Cecil, O.; S. S. Jones, Wisconsin; W. W. Latte, Ligonier, Ind.; O. H. Lincoln, Marengo, Ill.; U. H. Lake, Rosa, Mich.; Phillip S. Dorlaine, Deane's Corners, N. Y.; G. A. Bennett, Marengo, Ill.; M. E. Hozmire, Bangor, Mich.; M. H. Smith, Caro, Mich.; T. H. Cavanaugh, Walbridge.

The preamble, which reads as follows, gives the aims and objects of the organization:

Being impressed wit hthe fact that all parties interested in commerce, manufactures, and other enterprises of importance, are organized and using their combined influence for the promotion of their own special interests, while the farmers and employes, upon whose labors depend the prosperity of the nation, are almost entirely unorganized.

We, the citizens, farmers and employes of North America, believinfi that Almighty God is the source of all power, and the ruler of nations, should be acknowledged in all our constitutions of societies, states and nations, do hereby with due reverence to him associate ourselves together under the following articles, and do solemnly pledge ourselves, one to another, to labor together for the promotion of the interests of farmers and employes, and the good of the nation of which we are a part.

The order consists of a supreme association—the one now in session here—grand associations, county associations, and subordinate associations.

The supreme association has jurisdiction over North America, and is the highest tribunal of the order.

The basis of representation is one delegate for each 4,000 members. The delegates to the supreme are elected from the grand, delegates to the grand from the county association, and to the county from the subordinate associations.

The order knows neither sex, creed or color. It is benevolent and provides liberally for its sick and dead.

All disputes between members are to be left to arbitration whenever possible. Members shall not go to law with each other except in case of urgent necessity, and when all other modes and manner of settlements fail.

One excellent feature of the order is the system established in most places where the Patrons of Industry are strong, of buying direct from merchants who contract for the full patronage of an organization to give a certain percentage off. A subordinate or county association, for instance, contract to buy all its dry goods from one firm on a reduction of 10, 15 or 20 per cent. The same is done in regard to groceries, boots and shoes, etc. The system has worked very satisfactory in some places.

The order considers the credit system one of the great curses of the century, and look eagerly forward to the day when it shall be abolished.

THE DEBT ILLEGAL.

So Decides the Circuit Court in a Lengthy Decision.

The Natural Gas Bonds Cannot Be Issued

For the Payment of Pipe Laying—A Section of Law Quoted Which Holds Trustees Responsible.

The injunction restraining the city from issuing refunding gas bonds has been sustained by the circuit court, and the writ made peremptory.

Judge Bentley delivered the opinion, and it was an able and clear relation of the case.

By way of introduction the judge stated that the circuit court had not been called upon to decide the question as to whether the alleged debts could be collected to any extent orin any manner from the city, but whether the city had the power to issue the bonds involved.

It was held that the act of the legislature authorizing the issue of $750,000 worth of bonds for the purpose constructing a pipe line did not authorize the expenditure of any money on a natural gas plant over and above the amount of $750,000, and any income that might be derived from the plant in addition.

That there is no other act authorizing the natural gas trustees or the city to create any additional indebtedness except to the extent that section 2491b of the Revised Statutes of Ohio, passed April 1, 1891, authorizing the creation of an additional debt, to be paid only out of the special assessments as thereby authorized.

Further, that both sections 17 and 2702 prohibit the making of contracts for payment of money when there has been no fund previously appropriated for that purpose, unless the power to do so has been expressly granted, and the court held that no such power had been given in this case, unless it could be found in section 2491b (R. S.), and it was held that that section gives no such power.

Of the debts contracted the court held the proviso in that section declaring that in certain cases section 2702, R. S. of Ohio, shall not apply to certain contracts made by the gas trustees, refers only to contracts made in accordance with the provisions of the section when they are to be paid for by special assessment, authorized by that section. That the contracts made with the Chester Pipe & Tube company and the American Tube & Iron company did not create any valid contract debt for the further reason that the trustees did not advertise for bids. They further held that none of the outstanding claims are valid or legal debts against the city.

In connection with section 2702, which prohibits the contracting of debts without a fund or appropriation, the court cited section 17, which holds such officials personablly responsible. The following is a copy of that section:

An officer or agent of the state or of any county, township or municipal corporation who is charged or intrusted with the construction, improvement or keeping in repair of any building or work of any kind or with the management or providing of any public institution shall not make any contract binding, or purporting to bind the state, or such county, township or municipal corporation to pay any sum of money, not previously appropriated for the purpose for which such contract is made, and remaining unexpended and applicable to such purpose, unless such officer or agent has been authorized to make such contract, and if any such officer or agent make or participate in making a contract without such appropriation for authority, he shall be personally liable thereon and the state, county, township or municipal corporation in whose name on behalf the same was made, shall not be liable thereon.

Harrison Has Sent His Last Ultimatum

Across the Deep to Lord Salisbury.

Unless Some Plan is Found for the Protection of American Interests There Will be Trouble in a Few Weeks.

Washington, March 23.—President Harrison sent to the senate to-day a copy of his reply to Lord Salisbury's last note. Its concluding paragraph is very warlike in tone and contains in substance an ultimatum to the British government that unless Great Britain agreed to some arrangement pending arbitration by which the interests of the United States in Bering sea could be protected, the United States government would take measures to protect them if it were necessary to call the military forces into requisition to do so.

Great efforts are being made to suppress the affair, but the public indignation is too strong.

It can make very little impression on politics for Clarkson and Quay to call each other angels; hoofs and horns have been too nakedly displayed.

As Mr. Griffin is posing as a special opponent of rippers, of course he will withdraw that pet bill to rip the judicial districts of this part of Ohio.

Scotch home rule, Irish home rule, threatened universal suffrage, dis-establishment of church and state—pretty soon England will be a democratic country with a royal family on its hands.

Here's to Senator Roger Q. Mills, and the thanks of the country to the Lone Star state that the democracy may count one more champion of its doctrines, of unrivalled ability and unimpeachable integrity, in the senate of the United States.

It is to be regretted that Mr. Clarence Armstrong has withdrawn from the democratic city ticket. He is a representative democrat and a first-class business man, and such as he should go to the front in our politics. Toledo needs such men in office at this time.

The erection of a permanent census bureau is being discussed favorably in many of our exchanges. From recent expensive experiences, it is made manifest that some method of reform shoul be hit upon. We can get a good many pointers on the subject from some old world countries.

Friday and Saturday of this week are registration days. There are many persons in Toledo who will be obliged to register if they desire to vote this spring. They cannot register after this week. This is an important matter and should not be neglected.

Mr. Halstead is picturesque, whether he is in the front porch of a newspaper or in the back garret of a magazine. He now proposes "Grandfather's Hat" as a republican campaign badge. This is a striking suggestion, but what if the man under the Hat gets left, at Minneapolis? Better wait a bit.

The circuit court decides that the city council has no right to exchange good bonds of the city for the certificates of indebtedness which the contrfactors agreed should be paid from gas receipts. Very likely the case will be appealed, but in the interim the trustees will be without funds to make further improvements.

Mr. Ashton H. Coldham has, for professional reasons, withdrawn from the candidacy for alderman in the third ward. Mr. Coldham was the candidate two years ago and came within fourteen votes of election. He could easily carry the ward this spring and his withdrawal is much regretted.

It is proposed to fill little Rhode Island chock full of democratic patriotism: John M. Palmer, of Illinois, Gov. Abbett, of New Jersey, Gov. Pattison, of Pennsylvania, Speaker Crisp, of Georgia, Congressmen McMillan, of Tennessee, Breckenridge, of Kentucky, Bryan, of Nebraska and Wilson, of West Virginia (with more promised) are down for orations within a brief space of time.

Mr. Sylvester Lamb is the democratic candidate for alderman in the Third ward. He is a young man of ability and much business experience. He would make a valuable member of the board and his great popularity will very likely enable him to overcome the republican majority in that ward. He would be a better officer for the city than his opponent, therefore he should be elected.

Governor McKinley is like the rest of the patriots. He is not flirting with his party's presidential nomination, but should the Minneapolis convention make a straight-out, leap-year proposal to him he will blush and murmur yes. Of course Gov. McKinley's loyalty to the administration is shown in his friends' insistence that he has "no desire to make a contest against Harrison," and equally of course every one can count that for what it is worth.

Commissioner Raum is likely to get himself into trouble, in trying to save his son by sacrificing the good name of others. The fact is pretty well established by testimony, that for an employe to report or divulge confidences that come under his observation, means dismissal and defamation of character. An institution run on that plan can scarcely be expected to reform "from within." Honest men of all parties should be interested in having the Raum disgrace uptorn by the roots.

The republicans of the Ohio house of representatives fell upon each other yesterday and under the valorous leadership of our own Mr. Griffin a reputable faction assisted the democrats in smashing the Columbus ripper bill. This was as unexpected as a thunder clap in a clear sky and democrats can hardly understand it. The dispatches say it was a fresh breaking out of the senatorial row, and that the Forakerites had the spasm of virtue. May they continue the good work and oppose rippers and assist the good democrats in enacting beneficial legislation. There is hope for even such sinners.

The names of six thousand New York city democrats signed to the following protest, was presented to Speaker Crisp yesterday:

To the Democrats of the House of Representatives.

The undersigned democrats ask you to postpone the consideration of any silver bill until the next session of congress.

It is our firm conviction that the consideration of a free coinage bill will imperil democratic success in the coming presidential election.

It will not gain to the party a single silver state. It may lose New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and every state in the union that is now hopefully debatable.

In 1890 the democratic party won a victory almost unparalleled in our political history. Your great majority is the fruit of that victory. We ask you, as democrats, to permit the people to complete their triumph.

The World started the list and the names came in overwhelming showers.

Put their names on the roll of honor—the republican senators who refused to vote for the confirmation of Judge Woods, or to pair in his favor. Here they are: Stewart and Jones of Nevada, Pettigrew fo South Dakota, Washburn of Minnesota and Perkins of Kansas. Mr. Perkins claims that he was absent by accident. Give him the benefit of the doubt. The northwest shows up well. If these men had had the courage to vote against, instead of simply refusing to vote for confirmation, they would have immortalized themselves and have done the country a service. The 22-to-23 judge of the Supreme Court, with his backer, President Harrison, goes up to his high place under a great cloud. In crowding him through, the executive has dishonored his office, degraded the dignity of the Bench, defied a portion of his own party, and defied public opinion as expressed in the best newspapers of the country. No eulogies for the new judge are heard in any quarter.

POLICE MATRONS.

The Baltimore Sun indorses the bill now pending at Annapolis providing for the appointment of police matrons. It will, the Sun says, "fill a need too long neglected." Baltimore is the only large city without the police matron system, and in that city over 4,700 women were arrested last year. As is the record in all large cities, many of these were girls from 11 to 16 years of age; many of all ages were just entering on a life of vice. It was not too late to have saved them, had they been turned over to a police matron's care, and from her had gone to the protection of women's societies which look after such unfortunate cases. In urging the passage of the law the Sun says:

No reflection is intended upon our police department. They do the best that men can do. They do everything in fact—even those things a woman should do for a woman—but how much better after all it would be to have a good woman to do these things; to attend to the wants of these sometimes wretched, often only unfortunate, women at night; to do the searching (old policemen and police magistrates can and do tell us strange tales in this connection); to take care of the children too frequently passing a night of terrors surrounded by the dreaded police; to direct and counsel, as only a woman can, the waifs and strays of a large city, to whom one night may be the turning point of a life.

This is so true and so obvious that the opposition to police matrons who perform their duties, shown in the police departments of so many cities, is incomprehensible. It is more than likely, however, that when the law shall have been passed and the system established, the good people of Baltimore will find, as has been demonstrated in New York, Chicago, even in moral Toledo, that there is an inexplicable hitch in the successful working of the system. In time this will be set right everywhere. Only women should have police charge of women. Enlightened, moral sentiment is a unit on this, and strong public opinion will yet see that the laws creating the police matron's office adequately provide for the proper discharge of the duties of the office.

WHAT MAY BE.

The suggested fusion between democrats and third party men in Nebraska raises the question of how far such fusions are possible, and what will be their effect. It is stated that such a combination between the democratic and alliance forces in Kansas will be made for 1892, and it is a matter of record that such a combination was made in that state in 1891.

This combined vote in the last Kansas state election gave a majority of 63,000 over the republican vote, elected five alliance men to congress out of seven members, and in the state legislature gave the alliance a majority of 16 on joint ballot, by which Senator Peffer was returned to the United States senate, succeeding Senator Ingalls, republican.

In the lower house, Representative Halvorsen of Minnesota, sits as a representative of the Farmers' alliance, and owes his seat to the 12,694 votes cast for him by democrats. A number of democratic congressmen, not officially indorsed as alliance candidates last fall, secured their majority by the alliance votes that were cast for them. The most searching investigation fails to reveal any instance of combinations between people's party men and republicans. The reason for this tendency of the new political movement to converge toward democratic lines is not far to seek or hard to find.

The people's party, while it does not make an issue of tariff reform, heartily indorses the democratic position on the tariff. In that alone is a barrier not to be overleaped or broken down between the new movement and the republican party. With the general lines of reform advocated by the democracy, the alliance and other industrial organizations are in accord; and to these reforms any party of industrialists must commit itself. There is so much ground on which the democracy, always the party of the people, of the masses as against the classes, stands for all that any party of the people can stand with it. This is the natural explanation of suggested combinations between democrats and people's party men in states where such fusion will overthrow the common enemy, the republican party.

In itself there is nothing to apologize for in such a course. Fusion has been the determining factor in more than one political epoch in our nation's history. The republican party was born of fusion. How far this union of forces can be effected is another question. The democracy can afford to concede place and representation to coadjutors who will carry on its work, but it cannot sacrifice principle. The democracy stands, as it has always stood, for the common rights of all the people, and it can no more indorse the class legislation the farmer would demand than it can support the class legislation which the republican party has busied itself securing all the past thirty years. In general it must be said, and it will be shown, the democracy will not indorse any of the vagaries of the new party platform, but can cooperate with that party so far as common ends can be reached by concerted methods.

The practical effect of possible fusion this year may be at this stage easily overrated. It may be too much to say that such a combination would wrench Kansas, Nebraska, and the Dakotas from republican hands; possibly Minnesota also. It is a good plan to guage possible success by the fears of the enemy. Chairman Clarkson of the republican national committee, interviewed on his preference for presidential candidate, says:

Find a man most sure to heal and unite and inspire the party in New York, Indiana, Wisconsin and other doubtful states, and the man who will draw enough republican farmers back from the alliance to make Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin surely republican, and you have found the man. In such a situation the view of republicans of such doubtful yet necessary states ought to be deferred to largely.

If Mr. Clarkson deems it necessary to draw farmers back to the republican party in the "doubtful yet necessary states" of Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, the democracy can well afford to yield everything but honor and fundamental principles to this new and as yet unmeasured force, in order to defeat the hopes and plans of its great enemy.

Nebraska is making herself heard. Her new representative, Bryan, has done the state honor already in legislative chambers and now we are told that the Jackson Club of Omaha will march in on the Chicago convention, one thousand strong.

A Chicago doctor says baldness is the result of dyspepsia, and he has been able to arrest this result by successfully treating the cause. One wonders why don't dyspeptic women go bald.

There is a T. B. Reed club in Washington to boom the man of the sash and blazer for the presidency. Well "there's no law agin' such things;" this is a free country—for booms.

The question is being asked in a whisper: Will the suns and rains of the springtime expand the Flower boom?

SILVER DOLLARS.

The New York Chamber of Commerce Passes Resolutions.

New York, March 23.—The chamber of commerce has forwarded to congress a memorial on the silver question. In it the chamber submits that the interests of the country demand:

First. That all existing legislation which requires the secretary to purchase silver bullion shall be repealed.

Second. That the opening of the mints to the free coinage of silver would, by degrading the standard of value, effect a confiscation and transfer of wealth unparalleled in the history of civilized nations and produce an amount of distress for which not the slightest justification is to be found in necessity, policy or morals.

Third. That the only practical mode of dealing with the silver question is by an international conference and negotiation with the other great commercial nations of the world, looking to the restoration of silver to its place as international money upon a fair basis of relative value with gold, and to such an extent as the conditions of commerce and the judgment of the financial authorities will justify.

THE "ROBBER TARIFF."

To the Editor: The average price per day paid the workmen of free trade Great Britain is $1.06. Ohio workmen average $1.75 a day. What do you think of the "robber tariff?"—Toledo Blade.

We think that, never in the history of modern civilization have any people been so robbed by the money power, trusts and combines, as the American people are to-day.

But the "tariff robber" beats them all; 60 cents on the dollar. Just think of it.

McBride, commissioner of labor statistics for Ohio in 1889, says, "the average wages of 440,953 women in manufactories in Ohio, is $217.88, or 69 cents per day. Men in shops, average product $720, of which he receives $346, or only 48 per cent. of the product, or $1.10 a day, just 4 cents more than the Blade's English wages, and wages were higher then than now.

He says, "in England labor gets 59 per cent. of the product."

The bureau of statistics in Pennsylvania says this of wages in tariff protected industries: "Laborers in mining districts, $178.41 per annum, or 57 cents per day.

Miners, $234.75 per year, or 75 cents a day."

After the strike in Braidwood coke mines, investigation proved miners got only $18.25 a month, and had to pay $5 a month for the poorest hovel of a house to live in, and that left but 50 cents a day on which to keep a family, and the "robber tariff" would now take 30 cents of that, if spent in tariff goods. Just think of a family living on 20 cents a day while the husband and father is working in a republican high tariff protected industry.

Strike? Who in thunder wouldn't strike, and shoot, too, rather than be starved under such "robber tariff" wages?

The Blade asks what we think of the "robber tariff?"

We think it rightly named, and that it is a damnable imposition. J. H. R.
Barnes, Ohio.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The paramount duty of democrats this year is to elect a democratic president and another democratic house.—Mercer Western Press.

The most surprising thing that could happen just now would be a declaration from President Harrison that he would not accept a renomination.—Uniontown Genius of Liberty.

President Harrison having taken one southern and one western campaign trip in search of a renomination it is now about time that he took a northern trip to bolster up his friends.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Now comes a rumor that President Harrison is considering whether or not he shall allow his name to be used as a republican candidate for president this year. This is the first good joke with which the president's name has been connected.—Harrisburg Star.

Raw recruits do not appreciate the value of subordination, and when they sit in the halls of congress their elevation makes them tenacious of their own opinions. Unless out of the turmoil some man emerges fit to take the lead of affairs we shall have a wasted session. A wasted session at this time means serious results for the democracy.—St. Paul Globe.

From the Hartford Courant we learn that Mr. Harrison's path toward a renomination does not lie through rose gardens. The plan of operations against him is to have as many favorite sons in the field as possible and thus diminish his strength at the outset, and then to concentrate the opposition upon some dark horse. In this well laid plan is Connecticut for Hawley or Platt?—New Haven Register.

The people of this country certainly do not want war. If the time ever comes when a forcible trial of conclusions with Great Britain would be approved, the time must be when we are a little better prepared for it. Nor do the English want war. The care with which they kept out of the belligerent entanglements with the continent hard by, shows no disposition to rush into a fight across an ocean. The best thing for the senate and Salisbury to do is to leave off their grimaces and begin with the arbitration.—Brooklyn Eagle.

A special dispatch to the Richmond Times in reporting Senator Hill's speech at Wytheville, Va., says: Mr. Hill said he welcomed the opportunity of meeting the people of southwest Virginia; that he was on his way to Mississippi, and he was a candidate for president and would be glad to have the support of Virginia. Whilst the object of Senator Hill's southern tour has been pretty well understood, it is to be hoped for decency's sake, that he did not make the direct bid for votes attributed to him in the words quoted.—Baltimore Sun.

MENTIONED ON THE STREETS.

That skates would not have been out of place on the streets yesterday.

That the Bee will print another hummer on Saturday. Look out for it.

That the Polish voters are in line for the democratic ticket this time, which means much.

That there are prospects of some excitement in the coal trade to Toledo the coming season.

That John H. Puck would make a splendid police commissioner. Just try him for four years.

That the straight ticket is good enough for any democrat who proclaims allegiance to the party.

That Mr. Fogarty has not quit kicking himself for allowing Sam Tanner to double up on him.

That Toledo bank stock is a valuable commodity, which speaks much for the careful management of the institutions.

That Judge Scott, Tom Rooney and J. H. Spain are a trio of gentlemen who would dispense justice with an even hand as 'squires.

That city officials whose term of office expires next month do not view the republican nominations for the council with much satisfaction.

That the general public would like to know the particulars of the deal between Sam Tanner and Candidate Coalwell. Is Sam to remain deputy?

That Louis Steuer will not spend all his time when street commissioner at Jake Hoffman's, as does the present incumbent of the office, Mr. Bower.

That while it is well to have interest in the Helping Hand and other missions, the wayward girls and boys ought not to be forgotten, and Toledo has a full share of them.

That a platform whose only plank is to bounce worthy men from official position is not such an one as fair-minded men care to stand upon. Do you understand, Mr. Doville?

That the tax-payers in whose locality pumps were left unrepaired for months, causing great inconvenience, will not rush to the support of Mr. Bower with any degree of unanimity.

That the republican convention refused to hear John Enright for his cause, or any thing else, in fact, this time, and he was retired to the shades of private life. John will fool 'em for the drubbing.

That Louis Steuer has gone in and about Toledo since he was born, and yet a word has never been uttered against his character. That's the kind of a candidate the democrats present for street commissioner.

That republicans are asking each other as to who some of their nominees are, since they were never heard of before the late campaign. It does not make much difference, however; none of them will be in it when the votes are counted.

That George W. Leibius proposes to make his competitor, Coalwell, sing, before the close of the campaign, "The picture that was turned toward the wall." George can warble it, but thinks it is in better form for Coalwell to take the solo.

That J. Cooper Price is to-day celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of his advent to Toledo. He has seen a great deal of life during that time, and has 41 years yet ahead of him before reaching the centennial of his birth. May he get there.

ANOTHER STRIKE.

The Old Sunshine Promises to Pan Out Rich.

Boulder, Col., March 23.—A startling discovery comes from the old Sunshine, about nine miles northeast of Copper Rock. A pocket was struck in the Pleasant View mine that for richness has never been equalled in this country.

It is a tellurim are carrying wire gold, wire silver, claverite and petsite. An assay made of an average sample yielded $15,178.88 to the ton.

It is expected that the whole ore body will average several thousand dollars per ton and there is an immense quantity of it already in sight.

DIED IN MILWAUKEE.

A Well Known Citizen Passes Away in the West.

Milwaukee, March 23.—Ex-City Treasurer Michael Kraus, one of the best known German American residents of Milwaukee, died at 2:20 this morning, at his home, 761 Jackson street, of apoplexy.

For twelve years Mr. Kraus was business manager of Der Seebote. He aided in establishing the Daily Journal of this city and was half owner of the paper for several years. At the time he was stricken he was advertising manager of The Columbia, the German Catholic weekly. Mr. Kraus was born in Luxemburg, Germany, June 6, 1841. He leaves a widow and eight children.

BIRTH ON A TRAIN.

Representative Luis Makes Himself Famous.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 23.—A Belgian family named Watiers were passengers on a Missouri Pacific train leaving St. Louis last night at 8:35 p. m. Twenty miles out the mother gave birth to a boy.

State Representative Luis, of St. Louis, the only passenger on board the train who could speak the Belgian language, acted as interpreter and midwife, with the assistance of Major Henry Newman. The mother named the boy Luis Newman in honor of her distinguished attendants.

THE STRIKE SPREADING.

More Conductors and Trainmen Go Out.

Ottawa, Ont., March 23.—The Canadian Pacific conductors and train hands and switchmen on the eastern division went out at midnight last night.

No trains left here last night. The men are quiet and orderly.

It has been impossible thus far to get new hands to fill their places.

CORPORATIONS CHARTERED.

Columbus, March 23.—The following articles of incorporation were filed in the office of secretary of state to-day: The Canton Malleable Iron Co., Canton, capital stock $100,000; The Waverly Stone Co., Waverly, capital stock $5,000; The Ohio and Pittsburg Mining Co., Cleveland, capital stock $50,000; The Keystone Fireclay Co., New Lisbon, capital stock $25,000; New Lisbon council, Junior Order United American Mechanics, New Lisbon.

WANT FEWER HOURS.

St. Louis, Mo., March 23.—The Cabinet Makers' and Machine Wood Workers' unions have resolved upon a strike for a reduction on the hours of labor to nine per day without any corresponding reduction in wages. The men made a demand to this effect yesterday, and unless it is granted the men will quit work to-day.

GAS EXPLOSION.

Anderson, Ind., March 23.—The large residence of Jasper Pastelle, this city, was blown to atoms by a natural gas explosion and the debris burned.

Pastelle was fatally injured. The other members of the family escaped without serious injury. Pastelle had neglected to turn out the lights while repairing a sudden leak.

KILLED BY HER HUSBAND.

New York, March 23.—Mrs. Bessie Howard, aged 26, was killed by her husband, Wm. Howard, at 7:45 o'clock this morning, during a fight at their residence, 2103 Second avenue. The husband was arrested.

WITH THE OLD COLONY.

Boston, March 23.—Mr. O. H. Taylor has been appointed assistant general passenger agent of the Old Colony Steamboat company (Fall River line), with headquarters at Pier 28, North River, New York.

BIG DIAMONDS.

The famed Kohinoor, which has been cut twice, says a South African diamond digger now in this country, is a small one compared with many others. He adds: "The most beautiful diamond by far that I have ever seen was the one found at Kimberly by a little American named Porter Rhodes. I paid £5 just to look at it. The sight was a liberal education for a diamond expert. He afterward sold it to the Countess of Dudley for $500,000."

THE SPRING CAMPAIGN.

Democratic Nominees for the Various Offices.

Louis Steuer a Big Improvement on Henry Bower—Well, They Are All First-Class Timber.

Ashton Coldham has withdrawn from the race for alderman in the Third ward.

Democratic nominees for assessors are all good men. Vote for them in the several wards.

John Felker is on the democratic ticket in the Seventh ward for councilman, an excellent selection.

An opportunity will be given to register on Friday and Saturday. Democrats at least should improve it.

Will any of Eg. Doville's supporters give the public any of his qualifications for police commissioner?

John Kani is running for constable on the democratic ticket. Honor Polish voters by giving him a good round majority.

Messrs. Lauer and Browning as gas trustees wo uldadminister their trust with honesty and ability. Vote for them.

Councilman Walker is renominated by Eight ward democrats. During his term of office he has made a good record, and is entitled to re-election.

Messrs. Scott, Rooney, and Spain are democratic candidates for justice of the peace, and will attend to business with dispatch. Vote for them.

Tony Bay has represented the Ninth ward for two years, and is on the ticket for re-election. There ought not to be any question about his return.

Frank Coleman has been a useful and painstaking councilman for four years. He ought to be unanimously re-elected from the Fifth ward, and practically will be.

John Daly served the Fourth ward acceptably in the council board and has again been indorsed by the democrats to return to his seat. Mr. Morganthaler will retire.

Fred Schulty will defeat Phil Hassenzahl for alderman in the First ward. There is much inquiry as to why Hassenzahl wants to break from one board into the other.

The Sixth ward democrats have nominated Sanford Cook to succeed Caldwell. Mr. Cook is engaged in business over the river, has an interest in the growth of the ward, and will see that the old Sixth has all that belongs to it.

Col. John H. Puck is the best man of the two for the people for police commissioner. He is a business man, whose judgment on municipal matters would be in accordance with the best interests of Toledo.

It is generally believed that Coalwell, the republican nominee for police clerk, has a deal with Sam Tanner. What it is now bothers the republican hosts. Toledo would be benefitted by the election of a democrat as police clerk.

Sylvester Lamb is a candidate for alderman in the Third ward, and has been assured of the support of many good republicans, who do not approve of the methods employed in their caucus. Mr. Lamb will distance Oliver Hall.

Lewis Steuer, democratic candidate for street commissioner, is an every day citizen, having a knowledge of the requirements of the office, and has the ability to perform all of them. A change from Bower to Steuer will be a move in the right direction.

The election of Shafer to the council from the Second ward would be a shame and disgrace. He was nominated by a bad element, but caucus work is not always approved at the polls. Mr. Schmitt, the democratic nominee, is a substantial citizen and worthy of support.

For the board of education on the democratic ticket are Sam Kohn in the Second ward, Charles Zirwas in the Fourth, Harrison Hathaway in the Sixth, and Arion E. Wilson in the Eighth. All of them are eminently qualified, and will prove acceptable members. They will all be elected.

Five aldermen are to be chosen on April 4. The democrats have named excellent citizens. The First ward presents Fred Schulty the Third Sylvester Lamb, the Fifth M. Graham, the Seventh W. R. Hodge, and the Ninth Fred Wolfman. In the hands of these gentlemen the city's interests could not fail to be carefully attended to.

Rudolph Mathias is a working painter, has interests in the First ward, and would make a good councilman. There is bad blood between the friends of Wheeler and Miller. North Toledo feels that fair means were not employed to defeat the former gentleman, who was their candidate. A good way to smash the slate is to vote for Mathias.

Mr. Coldham has sent the following letter to the democratic committee:

To the Democratic City Central Committee.

Gentlemen: I desire to withdraw my name as candidate for alderman in the Third ward. I appreciate the honor done me, but circumstances make it an impossibility for me to run.

OLD MEN WHO WORK.

They Cannot Stop It and It Seems to be Good for Them—But Their Vitality Needs Care.

Why do old men work?

Because they have been accustomed to work all their lives, and they cannot cease it.

A steamboat under full headway may have its supply of steam entirely cut off, but it will run a long distance simply by its momentum. It is this way with elderly men who continue to work after they should retire and give themselves up to leisure. There are thousands of men who do this. They have usually been men of active brain and industry all their lives, and they cannot bring themselves to cease active effort entirely. It is perhaps well that it is so, for many men fall into "dotage," a half imbecile condition, which makes life a burden to them and their friends. This is most unfortunate.

But it does not follow that elderly men should break down in the least, or lose the vigor which characterized them in former years. By a careful mode of living, by a moderate amount of work, and by the use of some good nerve and muscle builder, they can continue in health and strength to a green old age. But not without assistance, not without something that will prove a food to the nerves and a vitalizer to the muscles. A difficult thing to find, we admit, but it has been found, found only once, and is the discovery made by Professor Phelps, of Dartmouth College, known as Paine's Celery Compound. There are thousands of aged men and women to-day, who are kept in comparative youthfulness solely by means of this great discovery. Their nerves are strong, their muscles sound, their heads clear, their appetites good. Such a discovery is a boon to humanity. It is no cheap nostrum, nervine, sarsaparilla or devised article, but a chemical discovery; and it is doing more to lengthen the lives and make pleasant the later years of the aged people of America than any other discovery known in the entire history of the whole world.

The following are a few of the statements made in its favor:

"I am now 69 years old, and for a long time have felt weak and full of pain. I tried many remedies, but none had any effect until I used Paine's Celery Compound. I now feel entirely different. I sleep soundly and well, walk briskly, and there is new life and energy come into my whole system.

"H. MYLIUS,
"Cleveland, Tenn."

"About two years ago I was all run down with nervous prostration and general debility. Later on a great sore broke out on my limb, which caused me much suffering. Many remedies were tried, but all with the same effect; the sore grew steadily worse. At the advice of a friend I resorted to your excellent Compound, which soon wrought a wonderful change. After taking five bottles, I found the sore to be almost entirely healed and my general health very much improved; and now, at the age of 78, I am in good health, having had no repetition of the breaking out. I would recommend Paine's Celery Compound to all who are similarly afflicted. MRS. A. B. SUMNER,
"St. Johns, Mich.

Kossuth, Gladstone, Whittier, many grand and great men work constantly in their old age. But they are very careful of their health. They do not over-tax their vitality, and use aids to strengthen continually. Any elderly man or woman may do the same and prolong life with happiness instead of shortening it in misery.

TO MY DOG "BLANCO."

My dear, dumb friend, low lying there,
A willing vassal at my feet,
Glad partner of my home and fare,
My shadow in the street.

I look into your great brown eyes,
Where love and loyal homage shine,
And wonder where the difference lies
Between your soul and mine.

For all of good that I have found
Within myself or human kind,
Hath royally informed and crowned
Your gentle heart and mind.

I scan the whole broad earth around
For that one heart which, leal and true
Bears friendship without end or bound,
And find the prize in you.

I trust you as I trust the stars:
Nor cruel loss, nor scoff nor pride,
Nor beggary, nor dungeon-bars,
Can move you from my side—

As patient under injury
As any Christian saint of old,
As gentle as a lamb with me,
But with your brothers bold;

More playful than a frolic boy,
More watchful than a sentinel,
By day and night your constant joy
To guard and please me well;

I clasp your head upon my breast—
The while you whine and lick my hand—
And thus our friendship is confessed,
And thus we understand!

Ah, Blanco! Did I worship God
As truly as you worship me,
Or follow where my Master trod
With your humility,

Did I sit fondly at His feet,
As you, dear Blanco, sit at mine,
And watch Him with a love as sweet,
My life would grow divine.

—J. G. Holland.

It is a curious limitation of the president's mind that in his state papers he sticks closely to attorney's literature. His message on the Chilean affair was a brief for the plaintiff, and in his letter, signed Wharton, on the Bering sea difficulty he illustrates an international dispute by talking of bills in equity. In all his public occupations Mr. Harrison has never got far away from his law office.

Here is some excellent advice pithily formulated by the Philadelphia Times: "Good strong mucilage is more than usually valuable just now. Imbeciles who would cast their underclothing on the first warm day should have it stuck to them. It is always allowable to prevent weak-minded people from doing themselves an injury. If they won't stick to their flannels, stick the flannels to them."

A sailors' home and institute (with reading-room, etc., and 30 beds) has been established in Rio de Janeiro by Mr. Edward Wesson, a young man, who gave up a lucrative appointment in London and went out, receiving only his outfit and passage from a few Christian gentlemen. Without introduction or local influence of any kind he has won his way with the sailors, though the lodging-house keepers have secured his imprisonment on the charge of keeping an unlicensed lodging-house.

An underground lake has been discovered three miles from Genesee, Idaho. It was found by a well digger. At a depth of 16 feet clear, pure lake water ran out over the surface for a time, then settled back to the earth's level. The most curious part of it is that fish were brought to the surface by the overflow. They have a peculiar appearance and are sightless, indicating that they are underground fish. The spring has attracted much attention, and many farmers in the vicinity fear their farms will drop into the lake.

Parents of school children in Brooklyn are very indignant at learning from their children that teachers in the public schools require every pupil to carry a pair of scissors with which "to cut papers." It is learned that the regulation originated with the drawing teachers. The scissors are used to cut designs out of paper, which the drawing teacher directs and explains. The matter will be emphatically called to the attention of the board of education at its next meeting, as the practice of scissors carrying by children is deemed by careful parents a very dangerous one.

In the mining district of southeastern Kansas there are nine zinc-smelting plants operating 58 furnaces, which have a daily capacity of handling and reducing 400,000 pounds of ore, yielding a product of 135,000 pounds of spelter. Of these smelters six are in Pittsburg, and one each in Weir City, Scammonville and Girard. The Weir City plant is claimed to be the largest zinc smelter in the United States, operating, as it does, six blocks, or twelve furnaces, and turning out 50,000 pounds of zinc spelter daily. In addition to these plants a company will establish one at Galena.

An English paper calls attention to an interesting and important ruling. The Jewish law orders that on the Sabbath day no fire may be kindled. Touching fire, lighting or extinguishing gas lamps, oil lamps or candles is forbidden. With the advent of the electric light there came the necessity of turning the electric current on or off. Prof. Crookes, a well-known British electrician, having given his expert testimony that the electric light does not result from combustion in the lamp, that "fire and flame" are not a part of it, the orthodox Jew is now permitted to use the electric light on his Sabbath.

The hop cultivators of the Pacific coast are turning their attention to Alaska. The season is believed to be long enough for the raising of crops, since the sun shines with almost tropical heat during the brief summer. Land can be had almost for the asking, and labor is "dirt cheap." The soil requires very little preparation for planting. The hops could be gathered at the rate of 25 cents a basket, or one half the rate paid the pickers of Oregon and Washington. Freightage in sailing vessels is a trifling item. Making these estimates, a syndicate of Portland hop-dealers has purchased a tract of land near Fort Wrangle, and will enter upon the enterprise at once.

DARED TO HIS DEATH.

A story told to many of us during the campaign referred to, by one of the oldest of the Comanches, the oldest Indian I have ever seen, "Little Beaver," of the O-ages, is very interesting, showing to what an art the despised savages of 30 years ago reduced story-telling, says the National Tribune. The dried-up old warrior prefaced his tale by stating that he was so aged, "that he was brother of the highest peak of the Wichita mountains," at the foot of which we were camped on a cold December night in 1868. Here is the story:

So many years ago that it seemed like a dream even to the narrator, the Comanches were the greatest tribe on earth. Their warriors were as numerous as a herd of buffalo on the Arkansas in the fall. They were more cunning than the coyote. Their herd of ponies contained so many animals—all fine and fat—that no one man could count them in a year. All the other Indians of the plains and mountains feared and trembled at the name of Comanche.

In the tribe, as is ever the case, there were two warriors who excelled all others in their prowress. One was young and the other middle-aged. They were very jealous of each other, each constantly attempting some deed of daring at which it was hoped the rival would balk. One fall, when the Indian summer made the air redolent with the sweet perfume of thousands of flowers and the mountains were bathed in the amber midst of that delicious season, all the great warriors were returning from one of their most famous victories.

They camped under the shadow of Medicine Bluff late one afternoon, where the young brave, who was quietly smoking his pipe as he hovered over the little campfire on which he was broiling a piece of antelope steak, happened to fix his gaze on the highest point of the bluff, and in that position continued for several minutes wrapped in a most profound study, while all the rest of the band stopped whatever they were doing and gazed at him intently.

Suddenly he rose to his full height and casting a defiant look upon the warriors scattered around on the grass who, excited at his strange manner, sprang up to learn what he meant. Presently he turned his face toward the sun, which was about two hours high, and broke out with this boast:

"No warrior equals me! I am the greatest of all the Comanches! I resemble that mountain!" pointing with his spear to the highest peak of Medicine Bluff. "My actions are as far above yours as that mountain is above the stream at its foot! Is there a warrior here who dare follow me?"

Then he shook his spear and brandished his shield in defiance of any and all. His rival was all the time swelling with rage and pride. He knew the boast was intended for him alone, although he was the elder of the two. He approached the braggart with all the dignity of the savage that he was, and striking himself on the bosom several times, exclaimed:

"So! You are the greatest warrior of the Comanches? You are the buffalo that leads the herd? I am the old bull to be driven away by the cowardly coyote and die, leaving my bones to whiten? You ask me to follow you. Never! I never follow! I will go with you!"

The remainder of the band gathered around the two celebrated warriors. They wondered what new deed of daring they were going to attempt, as the rivals arrayed themselves in their best buckskin dress and mounted their favorite ponies. With shields held in a defying position, their faces painted and their bonnets of war-eagle feathers flowing in the breeze they rode away without another word.

They forded the stream. The youngest now started up the difficult trail, which led to the sacred summit of the Medicine bluff, where, stopping his affrighted steed, he pointed to the fearful precipice a few rods off and exclaimed:

"You have followed me here; follow me further."

Then shouting the war-whoop, which made the echoes of the mountain awaken, and thumping the flanks of his animal vigorously, he darted toward the awful brink. His rival instantly raised his pony on his hind legs and with a whoop more piercing followed the young man, who when he had reached the edge of the precipice failed in courage and pulled his pony violently back on his haunches. The elder saw his chance. With an awful yell of defiance and triumph he forced his horse to make the terrible leap in mid-air.

All the warriors on the grassy bottom below watched with eager interest what was going on above them. They heard the whoop of the aged warrior as he jumped down the awful abyss. They saw him sit as calmly as if in his "lodge" as he descended, seated as upright on his pony as if his animal were walking on the prairie, and, above all, they heard his clear voice as it rung out in the clouds: "Greater than all the Comanches!"

Sadly they wended their way to the feet of the bluff, where both horse and brave rider lay a mangled mass on the rocks, the old warrior with a smile on his wrinkled face of unmistakable triumph.

The boasting rival became a wanderer among the tribes. His name was accursed of all Indians. The very dogs of the camps snapped at him as he passed. At last, overcome with remorse at his cowardice and treachery, he killed himself. One day he was found dead on the grave of his rival at the foot of the bluff. His body was eaten by the coyotes; his shield and spear, by which he had been identified, were lying on the ground at his feet.

WAKE UP.

If you wake up in the morning with a bitter or bad taste in your mouth, Languor, Dull Headache, Despondency, Constipation, take Simmons Liver Regulator. It corrects the bilious stomach, sweetens the breath and cleanses the furred tongue. Children as well as adults sometimes eat something that does not digest well, producing Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Restlessness, or Sleeplessness—a good dose of Regulator will give relief. So perfectly harmless is this remedy that it can be taken by the youngest infant or the most delicate person without injury, no matter what the condition of the system may be. It can do no harm if it does no good, but its reputation for 40 years proves it never fails in doing good.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Florence Nightingale, now 72 years old, has been very ill with the grip.

Bismarck will be 77 years old on the 1st of next month. But he is no April fool yet.

Annie Louise Cary-Raymond has given to the Maine general hospital, in which she has always felt a profound interest, enough money to fit up three rooms for the use of patients.

Mrs. Augusta Evans-Wilson is living quietly at Spring Hill, a suburb of Mobile. The author of "Beulah" is said to be loath to welcome Amelie Rives-Chanler as a rival in Southern literature.

Rev. J. C. Beagen, an Episcopal clergyman, created quite an excitement in his church at Beaver Falls on Sunday evening last by a sermon designed to show that total abstinence is not temperance nor necessarily a Christian duty.

The Hon. John J. Ingalls has been rather quiet for some time past, but now that he has been admitted to the Grand Army of the Republic, notwithstanding the fact that "his military record is vague," he will probably be as full of fight as ever.

Rossini's birth will be celebrated enthusiastically on the 29th. There will be a water festival at Venice. The Roman musicians will celebrate in their own fashion. Rossini's own cottage in Pesaro will be bought and made into a museum. Turin will hear the "Stabat Mater" and Paris "William Tell."

In Edmund Yates' London letter of March 14 to the New York Tribune it is announced that Harry Furniss, Punch's famous caricaturist of parliamentary scenes, "has booked a passage and will leave England by the Teutonic on March 29 for the United States." The trip has been ordered by his physician as a relief from the effects of overwork; but he will be surely tempted to further work by the splendid material for his pencil to be found in Washington.

Empress Eugenie felt so acutely the complete absence of recognition which she experienced when walking about Paris last year that she has declined to stay there on her way to Cap Martin, though much pressed to do so. Princess Mathilde met her at Gare du Nord, and while waiting for a train they dined like two ordinary passengers in the refreshment room, quite unnoticed by the rest of the inmates. The empress is looking stronger than she has for some years past.

PLUNK-ET A PLUNK.

Ann Arbor Boys a Grand Success.

A Brilliant Reception Follows the Concert at the Residence of F. B. Dodge—the Club's Spring Tour.

There's something about the music of college banjo and glee clubs that's different from other music. Perhaps this difference lies in the fact that it is better than other music. However that may be, there is no getting around the fact that the University of Michigan boys are this season dispensing a music that will not take dust from any other music on the road—a music that catches, holds, tickles and charms its hearers until they are forced to admit that our esteemed friend Prof. McStinger, the baritone singer, is decidedly not in it.

It was a brilliant audience that gathered at Wheeler's last evening to hear the Ann Arbor boys. Society was out in full force.

John Moulton, Hubbard S. Woodbury, Harry Brown, Malcolm Russell, Jay Secor and Dick Norton acted as ushers and J. R. W. Cooper tore off the coupons at the door in a masterly manner.

The program was opened with the U. of M. March by the banjo club. The way those banjos plunk-et-e plunked in their upper register and the guitars boom-boom-ta-raded down on the basement runs was a marvel to see and hear. There is no doubt about it, they got out all the plunk there was in them. The audience was captured and the Ann Arbor boys knew that they had made a hit. Of course the selection was encored, as were all the numbers, and responded to with something even better each time.

The songs of the glee club, besides being full of music, were full of sentiment or fun as well. The audience could enjoy the harmony, laugh at the fun, or do a little weeping over the sentiment. One song related the experiences of the teacher who put Mary's little lamb out of school. The teacher regrets the act until this day, for that lamb, so the song goes, hung around, and when his pedagogic nibs came out the lamb

"Hit him just behind you know,
Hit him just behind you know,
Just below the vest."

It was a sad tale. Another was to the tune of the Old Oaken Bucket, and related a few things dear to the hearts of the boys, such as Ann Arbor's ramshackle sidewalks, the one fat-colored barber, their boarding house, the landlady's vegetable soup and the things she put in it, the leatherous, fibrous, mummified beefsteak, and all the other things that go to make up a college life.

They also sang of the tailor who shot at a troublesome crow and killed his favorite pig. Every song had a good point. The chair drill was something original and very clever, indeed.

The club is most fortunate in possessing a number of excellent soloists. Mr. Spaulding has a remarkably sympathetic, well-cultured voice. His solo Sweetheart, was the gem of the evening. Mr. Joy's singing was also a treat as were the solos of Messrs. Walter and McCreary.

Perhaps the most taking selection of the banjo club was Mephisto's Revels. It was devilish fine music. It was so real that one could close his eyes and see the old fellow himself, scratching his horns on the procenium arch.

The Chestnut Mill was another good selection by the glee club. They imitated the grinding of the mill, and then proceeded to give all the chestnut songs in creation, winding up with the grinding mill.

The program was closed with a quintet—three guitars, a cello and violin. It was an artistic number.

The college yell was given by admiring students in the boxes and the performance at the opera house was over, but the end is not yet, for a reception was given at the residence of F. B. Dodge on Huron street.

It was a most enjoyable affair. At least 200 guests were present from 10:30 to 12:30 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Dodge, Miss Dodge, Miss Perkins of Boston, and Mrs. J. M. Ferris received.

During the evening Mr. Spaulding sang several solos, and the glee club gave one of its pieces.

The manager of the club, F. C. Smith, said to a Bee: "Our regular spring tour will commence April 15. We will go a little further from home than usual, taking in Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Paul, Duluth, Minneapolis and Milwaukee. We are very much pleased with the manner in which we have been received in Toledo."

The members of the club are C. A. Stanley, E. C. Peters, E. H. Cheney, W. W. Webster, E. H. Harriman, L. S. McCreary, H. V. Richardson, J. A. Pratt, R. F. Flinterman, Jno. A. Stevens, W. E. Walter, R. G. George, E. N. Bullock, H. A. Reese, H. M. Joy, H. F. Worden, G. A. McCollum, R. F. Thompson, Henry Hang, A. D. Rathbone, H. P. Dodge, H. F. Van Deventer, W. Miller, H. F. SHE PULLED HIS HAIR.

A Georgia Officer Attempts to Arrest a Virago Dressed in Man's Clothes.

Dublin, Ga., March 23.—Miss Mattie Hester, some of whose exploits have been related, was arrested Saturday after a desperate resistance.

The grand jury indicted her last summer for running a "blind tiger," and since then she has evaded the officers by donning male attire, boasting that nobody dare touch her. While she was driving a cart of compost to her mother's field, Sheriff Howard stepped up and told her she was his prisoner. Mattie pulled the sheriff's hair, scratched his face and hands and struggled until she became exhausted. On the way to the buggy she used the most violent language and remarked that the men who had her indicted would pay for it with their lives.

Three other women, living about fourteen miles below here, whose morals did not agree with the standard in that section, were taken from their house by a band of vigilantes, who stripped them to the waist and severely lashed them. They were warned to leave the county on pain of worse treatment.

STANDARD MOVEMENTS.

Another Pipe Line to Enable the Company to Reach the Sea.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 23.—The Standard Oil company is expected by many producers to purchase another independent pipe line and remove its most formidable opponent from the field.

It is the line almost completed between the McDonald oil field and Linwood on the Delaware, below Philadelphia, and is being constructed by the Crescent company, of which M. L. Melton is president.

The Crescent people will be pumping oil to the seaboard within three months and have commenced the construction of 300 miles of telegraph line, which will follow the route of the oil pipe.

ANNUAL INSPECTION

Of the Toledo Militia Companies Last Night.

Colonel Howe, Assistant Adjutant General of Ohio, Greatly Pleased With His Observations.

The annual inspection of the National Guard in Toledo was held at Memorial hall last evening. Assistant Adjutant General James C. Howe, being the inspecting officer. The different companies mustered as follows: Toledo Cadets, Capt. W. V. McMaken, First Lieut. Watters, Second Lieut. Howell and 44 men; Sixteenth regiment, company A, Capt. J. M. Weier, First Lieut. Redmond, Second Lieut. Roshong and 37 men; Company C, Capt. James R. Wade, First Lieut. S. F. Tanner, Second Lieut. Seth E. Meek and 45 men; Company H, Capt. Ralph S. Holbrook, First Lieut. L. W. Howard, Second Lieut. S. B. Stanbery and 45 men. Col. H. S. Bunker commanded the three companies of the Sixteenth.

The companies were put through a thorough series of maneuvers and the manual of arms and their movements on the floor of the great hall made a brilliant spectacle, which was witnessed by a large number of visitors.

The inspection was a very thorough one, lasting from 8 o'clock until 10:45. Col. Howe watched every point closely and the showing of the men was creditable in every respect, the work of the cadets being especially fine.

After the inspection was concluded Col. Howe was tendered an informal reception in the parlors of Battery D, and light refreshments were served.

Col. Howe, now assistant adjutant general of the state, is well known in Toledo, being commander of the Second regiment, which camped at Presque Isle two years ago, and also being an honorary member of the Toledo cadets.

After the inspection a meeting of the Toledo National Guard association was held, and Col. Howe being present, a motion was unanimously passed that the National Guard of Toledo enter their most earnest protest to Col. Howe against permanent camp grounds, and ask that the bill covering the same be reconsidered by the legislature.

John L. Sullivan is very proud of his ability as a reader and seldom loses an opportunity to display it, being not at all particular as to the time or place, says the New York Advertiser. He always has a newspaper in his pocket, and, upon meeting a friend in a car or a hotel corridor, he is pretty sure to call his attention to some item in the paper and read it to him aloud. The fistic champion has really considerable talent as a reader. He possesses a fine voice and surprises his friends with the amount of expression that he puts into the reading of a prosaic sporting item. "Reading," said he the other day, after having given a specimen of his elocutionary power, "is a fine art. I believe in reading well or not at all." In reading an account of a murder he sometimes waxes stagey, bringing out for all they are worth the pathetic and tragic features. The reporters who pen the news items have no idea of the dramatic elements that lurk in them until the Big Fellow brings them out in his peculiar style. John conceived a love for elocution from the moment that he began to study for the stage, and effective reading is now almost as great a study with him as effective slugging.

LOOK AT THIS.

Are these not healthy and bright children? Their appearance does not misrepresent them; they are both healthy and bright. They are the son and daughter of Mr. J. P. Wiley, of Dorchester, Mass., and he has an interesting story to tell in regard to them. The story is as follows:

"In 1885 my wife, accompanied by my little boy, at that time 11 months old, was visiting relatives in Scranton, Penna. The little fellow was suffering untold agony cutting his teeth. My wife was told to try Dr. Hand's Teething Lotion. The effect was magical. It did not stupefy the child, as most remedies of this character do; it simply soothed the pain of the burning and aching gums. I might write a volume, had I the time, praising this remedy, and then not express my feelings or do it justice, it is simply marvelous. After her return to Boston she wanted another bottle, but I found that it was unknown in this city. I corresponded with Dr. Hand, and received in reply a sample of each of his remedies. I used them on both my children, recommended them to all my friends, and have yet to find the person who, after using the remedies, especially Teething Lotion and Colic Cure, that could not praise them. People may say, and have said to me: 'Oh, there must be something in that Teething Lotion that affects a child's brain.' In reply to this, I will say I have two children, a boy and girl, who have been treated with Teething Lotion since time of beginning to end of teething, and I challenge any person to furnish two with any clearer brains. I cheerfully recommend them to parents who love their little ones."

The care with which foreign manufacturing towns guard the secrets of their industry is well illustrated by the excitement in St. Etienne, France, over an attempt to betray the processes of the ribbon manufacture to foreign firms. The first clue to this conspiracy was a letter from an English manufacturer saying that he had been offered by an inhabitant of St. Etienne all of the patterns and novelties in the way of silk ribbons for the coming season. The person making this offer stated that he would visit England and set up looms and arrange the patterns as might be desired. The letter was signed only by initials, but the writer proved a clumsy hand at deception and fell into the registered letter trap. He proved to be a prominent commission merchant, and though voluminous correspondence with English and German merchants was found, it is not known that he had given any of the secrets away as yet. The prosperity and life of many a European town is dependent upon just such secrets, and the guarding of them is not a question of honor only, but of bread and butter.

IS IN SESSION TO-DAY.

The Lucas County Social Purity Conference.

Interesting Exercises This Morning—Addresses Last Evening by Rev. W. C. Hopkins and Rev. Jeannette Olmstead.

The lecture room of St. Paul's M. E. church was fairly well filled last evening when the first session of the Social Purity conference was called to order by Mrs. T. F. Randolph, who opened devotional exercises with reading from the Scriptures. "Rescue the perishing" was sung by the congregation under the leadership of Mrs. W. J. Farrar, who conducts the musical program of the conference. Prayer was offered by Mrs. J. M. Mixer, and the solo, "I gave my life for thee—what hast thou done for me?" was rendered in an effective manner by J. Foster Farrar.

Rev. S. D. Hutsinpiller was to have delivered an address, but was called from the city, and on his request Rev. W. C. Hopkins, of Grace Episcopal church took his place.

Rev. Mr. Hopkins' Address.

Mr. Hopkins congratulated the audience on the growth of healthy public sentiment on the question of social purity which made such a meeting possible, and the attendance so good, though it was regretted that those whom such meetings would most benefit were absent. "If intemperance has slain its thousands, lust has slain its tens of thousands," said the speaker. "It is because of this awful harvest that has been gathered we are stirred to hold such meetings as this."

Deprecating the false and mawkish standard of modesty which prevents useful and moral discussion of questions upon which social purity depends, Mr. Hopkins said that social purity was a subject which comes near the pastor's heart, for every pastor knows many of his Sunday school graduates go to lives of infamy. Not because they have been Sunday school scholars, but because they have not there been taught what they ought to know because pastors are checked by their parishioners when they would preach and teach the truth about these things.

As remedial measures Mr. Hopkins dwelt upon what pastors can do, what parents can do, and what should be done by school training. He would have pastors talk plainly to children, both boys and girls, when they are old enough to join the church, at the years when temptations come; instruct them in the destruction that waits upon vice, the evil physical conditions it surely venerates. Fathers should tell their boys plainly all that it is reasonable for them to know; all that it is necessary for them to know in order that they may lead cleanly lives; show them the hideous results of sin, scare them away from evil courses; make companions of them, walk with them, talk with them, play with them.

Mothers should take the same course with their girls, for the women who fill our retreats never had right training at home.

There remains the large class, 85 per cent., who have not good home training; who never go to church after they are old enough to decide for themselves; who avoid a clergyman as they would the small-pox. For these Mr. Hopkins said he had desired, and would continue to insist upon its necessity, school training in social purity. School boards should provide for courses of study on this vital issue. Lectures should be given every term by discreet doctors, male physicians for the boys, women doctors for the girls. No child should reach the grammar school without proper instructions.

The further remarks of Mr. Hopkins upon this point reflected with severity upon our public schools, though without placing the blame upon the system, rather resting it upon the parents who do not properly look after their children. He holds that the girl who attends the public schools, frequents its playgrounds, mixes promiscuously with playmates and sees and hears evil things to which all school children are exposed, will through life show results to be regretted. The girl trained in private school or at home with a governess, had better manners, gentler voice, etc. That his position upon the evil incident to want of care of children in our public schools should not be mistaken Mr. Hopkins repeated the remark of "a reputable citizen," who said "our schools are training for prostitution."

From their earliest years he would have boys and girls trained in self-restraint and modesty, and among the things he would not have them indulge in were kissing games, romping in school grounds, going out evenings without father or mother. "A mother," said Mr. Hopkins, "should stay away from prayer-meeting if that is necessary in order for her to be with her girls."

Miss Olmstead's Talk.

Mrs. Phebe Clark announced Miss Olmstead's subject as "The Ideal in Social Life," saying that she had no need to introduce the state superintendent of social purity for the W. C. T. U. to a Toledo audience.

Miss Olmstead is indeed well known here, at least to audiences of women. Her charm of manner, both in public speaking and in conversation; her sincerity, her charity and sense of justice, and other noble attributes endear her to all women who desire reform, whether they are working for it in her way or in another.

Her address last evening was replete with wisdom, and its general tendency was to show that the workers for social purity, while they did not neglect the effort to raise the fallen woman, were doing their greatest and most useful work in dealing with causes, in the juvenile work, the educational work, by which ruin is prevented.

This Morning's Exercises.

The morning session of the conference had a good attendance of ladies interested in moral and social reforms, and a number from Lucas county, outside of the city, were present. Rev. Jeanette L. Olmstead presided, Mrs. Maude Dutton acted as secretary, and devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. E. C. Olmstead. Mrs. Louise Eck was appointed a committee on courtesy to look after the entertainment of guests not belonging in the city.

A paper on social purity in literature and art was read by Mrs. Maude Dutton, and Mesdames Samuel Bartlett, Josephine Marlatt and E. M. Hawley led the discussion on the same.

A solo was rendered by Mrs. Farrar, and this was followed by a practical talk upon how to suppress obscene literature and advertisements. The sensational character of some of the daily papers was deplored, and special condemnation was made of the "matrimonial" papers, through whose misleading advertisements girls are lured to ruin. Copies of the Ohio statute prohibiting the circulation of obscene pictures and literature were distributed, and Mesdames Farrar and Hawley were appointed a committee to investigate a publication in Toledo alleged to be run as a matrimonial bureau.

Mrs. E. A. Edwards then read a paper on narcotics, "Tobacco as an Immoral Force," which was very able and was well received. On motion of Mrs. Eck the paper was given the Bee for publication.

Miss Olmstead called attention to the anti-cigarette bill now pending in congress, and a resolution passed that petitions be circulated and personal letters be written congressmen praying for the passage of the bill.

The morning session closed with the noontide prayer of the W. C. T. U., offered by Mrs. Bartlett.

The Afternoon Program.

The following program was observed at this afternoon's meeting:

Devotional exercises, led by Mrs. J. W. Hiett.

Paper on Equal Suffrage, Mrs. E. S. Fray.

On Juvenile Work, Mrs. S. E. G. Keith.

On Mothers' Meetings, Rev. J. L. Olmstead.

On Bible Readings, Mrs. Samuel Bartlett.

On Travelers' Aids, Mrs. Lutz.

Question Box.

Mrs. Hoffman This Evening.

Mrs. Clara Hoffman will speak this evening on "Our Legacy to the Future." Mrs. Hoffman is a national lecturer for the W. C. T. U. and president of the Missouri State association. She has a national reputation for eloquence, and should be greeted by a large audience.

A Bridal Tour, at an American Summer Resort.

Human ingenuity has made it possible that American pleasure resorts can carry with them the health-giving properties of Europe's First Health Spring.

We refer to Carlsbad.

It will pay you to read up on this historical spot.

For 500 years it has performed its beneficent mission.

Emperors, poets, statesmen, all men of wealth and station have sought and found health here. Quite an expensive trip.

But you need not go. Every drug store will deliver you the Carlsbad treatment in a bottle, in the shape of the world-renowned Sprudel Salts or the imported Waters.

Take no substitute. The following on the bottle proves its genuineness:

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Mr. Russell, who is building a house on Robinwood avenue near Bancroft street, reported at the police station this morning that some one had been stealing tools from his building.

It was reported at the police station this morning that some person was cutting down timber belonging to the Schauss Manufacturing company, on Detroit avenue, between Dorr street and Oakwood avenue.

A TRIP TO WASHINGTON.

John Rentz and J. D. Smead have just returned from Washington, under the patronage of the gentlemanly managers of the C., H. & D. and C. & O. R. R. They left Toledo at 10:20 a. m. Thursday, on a through vestibule train, provided with all the comforts of a first-class hotel, and arriving at Cincinnati at 6:20 p. m., where they were met by the officials of the C. & O. R. R., who spared no pains to make everything as pleasant as possible. The train was the most magnificent that they ever beheld. The cars were lighted by electricity, and there was no want but what could be supplied at a moment's notice. The interior of the car was simply a palace, and an electric bell called to you any wish of the heart—hot water, cold water, something to eat, something to drink, any luxury desired. They passed through some of the most magnificent country in the United States. The Kenesaw river, the Big Sandy, Little Sandy, and New rivers, and thence over the Blue Ridge, into old Virginia, passing through a great many of the battlefields of the late rebellion, which was of course of great interest to all old soldiers, arriving at Washington at 2:20 p. m., where they were met by the C. & O. passenger agents, Messrs. Gregar and Bond, the latter parties taking them in charge, and piloting them to every place of interest in the national capital.

They stayed over night with our friend and comrade, A. J. Hodges, and were royally entertained by him and his good wife. We also visited congress and a great many other places of interest, taking in all of the scenes possible in a short visit.

Saturday at 7 p. m. we started for home, taking the magnificent steamer, Norfolk, at the foot of Seventh street, for Old Point Comfort, or what is better known as Fortress Monroe, arriving there at 6 a. m., from thence to Norfolk and Portsmouth, visiting the navy yard, where we had the pleasure of boarding the great war vessel Newark, one of the finest vessels in the navy, in fighting trim, ready for active service at any moment, manned by 300 sailors and marines. We then returned to Norfolk, thence to Newport News, where we took the train at 4:30 for Richmond, Virginia, capital of the so-called southern confederacy; from thence to Gordonsville, back across the same route taken going down.

Our party consisted of Capt. B. F. Graves and wife, of Adrian, and seven other comrades of Toledo, making our total 11 persons. The trip will never be forgotten by the visiting party and we would advise all going to Washington to take this splendid route. F.

EXCITEMENT!

Is running high over the wonderful bargains offered in Cushing's Lawrence Ave. Sub-Division of 24 choice city lots, situated on Lawrence Ave., between Bancroft and Virginia Sts., one block from Monroe. These lots are in the most rapidly developing and by all odds the handsomest residence portion of the city, and low figure at which we are holding them at present, and with the improvements about to be made, they are the best investments in the Toledo market. To those desiring a home in a growing locality, where building restrictions insure a fine neighborhood, no such inducements are offered anywhere as in this sub-division The and the Monroe Street School are but a stone's throw from these lots, whilst the Electric Belt Line and Monroe Street Cars are within hailing distance. Call at our office and let us drive you out to see these beautiful lots before they are all gone. It will cost you nothing and we would be happy to do so.

VARIETY THE SPICE OF LIFE.

There is nothing benefits mankind so much as a change, even if it is only a change of linen. But what we mean to convey is that too much of any one thing becomes monotonous. The clerk, tied for hours to his desk, seeks relaxation on his flying wheel; the policeman, on his feet for hours (?) finds relaxation in an easy chair by his or any other friend's fireside; a man badgered by a shrew of a wife seeks relaxation by tilting a can over his head, and as the beer disappears, he gazes with consolation at his reflected countenance at the bottom of the growler. Even at the theater how many plays are monotonous when all on the one theme; how a bit of sentiment is relieved by a hearty laugh, a merry dance or comic song. And if "variety is the spice of life," it reaches perfection in the great comedy, "She Couldn't Marry Three."

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Upper Sandusky, O., March 23.—(Special)—Irvin Bacon, a well-known farmer residing in the eastern part of the county while working about his barn, stepped upon a loose board in the hay-mow and fell to the ground below. One of his ribs was broken and it is feared he sustained internal injuries.

POLITICS NOT IN IT.

Panama, March 23.—A serious conflict occurred on March 18 at Paipa between civilians and a military company that was returning from Cocuy. Five persons were killed and 14 wounded. Oddly enough, the disturbance had nothing to do with politics.

Polite society has banished the toothpick from the dining-room to the bathroom.

A HOUSEHOLD REMEDY.

Allcock's Porous Plasters are the only reliable plasters ever produced. Fragrant, clean, inexpensive, and never failing; they fully meet all the requirements of a household remedy, and should always be kept on hand. For the relief and cure of weak back, weak muscles, lameness, stiff or enlarged joints, pains in the chest, small of the back and around the hips, strains, stitches, and all local pains, Allcock's Porous Plasters are unequalled.

Beware of imitations, and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for Allcock's, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Tiffin, March 23.—Ross Keibler, driver of a feed wagon, attempted to commit suicide by taking laudanum, but his plan was frustrated by the aid of a physician and a stomach pump. Keibler was despondent over losing his situation.

It is not the extremes of heat and cold so much as the sudden changes in temperature that cause certain climates to be unhealthful. When, however, the system is invigorated with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, these changes are rarely attended with injurious results.

A PLAIN PRECAUTION.

Either to adopt a plain precaution, one sanctioned by experience and approved by medical men, or to incur the risk of a malady obdurate and destructive in its various forms of intermittent or bilious remittent fever, or dumb ague, which of the two? For every type, for every phase of malaria, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a specific. It acts promptly—does its work thoroughly. As a defence against the malarial taint it is most effective. Emigrants to and denizens of regions in the west where miasmatic complaints are periodical visitants, should be mindful of this and use the Bitters as a safeguard. For constipation, biliousness, rheumatism, "la grippe," kidney and bladder troubles the Bitters will be found no less useful than in cases of malaria. Against the injurious effects of exposure, bodily or mental, it is also a valuable protection.
